- 5 Read the article carefully, ignoring the gaps, and make a note of the main idea of each paragraph. An example has been done for you.

SURVIVING TEENAGERS

It might be difficult to accept, but a new approach to living happily with teenagers is for parents to look at their own behaviour.

treat teenagers differently

"The key to getting teenagers to respect you is to respect them first," says Penny Palmano, who has written a best-selling book on teenagers. "You can't continue to treat them the same way that you from before have been treating them for the previous 12 years: they have opinions that count. 1 You'd be very upset. You'd never say that to an adult, because it shows a total lack of respect."

> Palmano, who has a daughter aged 19 and a 16-year-old stepdaughter, has even allowed the children to hold several teenage parties at her home. They passed without problems. "I've found that if you have brought them up to do the right thing, and then trust them to do it, usually they'll behave well," she says. "I make them sandwiches and leave them alone. But I make it clear that they have to clear up any mess. 2 "

> She agrees that teenagers can be irritating: enjoying a world that is free of responsibility, yet desperate for independence. She doesn't think, however, that they are trying to annoy you. Until recently, scientists assumed that the brain finished growing at about the age of 13 and that teenage problems were a result of rising hormones and a desire for independence. 3

"This would explain why many teenagers can't make good decisions, control their emotions, prioritise or concentrate on several different things at the same time. 4 It means that they do not intentionally do the wrong thing just to annoy their parents," says Palmano.

The key to happiness for all, Palmano believes, is calm negotiation and compromise. If you want your teenagers to be home by 11 pm, explain why, but listen to their counter-arguments. If it's a Saturday, you might consider agreeing to midnight (rather than 1 am, which is what they had in mind). Instead, ask if they've had a problem with public transport and let it pass; they've almost managed what you asked. She urges a bit of perspective about other things, too. "There have been times when my daughter's room has not been as tidy as I expected, but as she said once, T'm a teenager — what do you expect? I'm not turning into a criminal, it's just clothes on the floor."

"It's vital to choose your battles carefully: don't criticise teenagers for having an untidy room, then suddenly criticise them for other things. 6 One minute, it's about an untidy room and the next, you're saying, 'And another thing ...' and criticising them for everything."

Adapted from The Daily Telegraph

- 6 Six sentences have been removed from the article. Choose the correct sentence from A–G which fits each gap (1–6). There is one extra sentence which you do not need. Use the underlined words and phrases in the sentences and in the text to help you.
  - A But it turns out that the region of the brain that controls common sense and emotions is not fully mature until the early twenties.
  - B If they are up to 20 minutes late, don't react angrily.
  - C For example, they may find it difficult to make the right decision between watching television, ringing a friend, or finishing their homework.
  - D Parents often complain that teenagers can be charming to people outside the home but irritating to their family.
  - E I've never had a problem; in fact, the kitchen was sometimes cleaner than I'd left it.
  - F On these occasions, parents tend to mention all the other things that they may or may not have done wrong.
  - G Imagine if you'd spent two hours getting ready to go out for the evening and someone said, 'You're not going out looking like that, are you?'

Exam information

In Reading and Use of English Part 6, you read a text of 500–600 words with six gaps where sentences have been removed. You choose one sentence from a list of seven sentences A–G for each gap; there is one sentence you will not need.

This part tests your ability to understand the structure of the text, how the argument develops and how ideas in the sentences A–G refer and link to ideas in the text.

- 7 Work in groups of four. Two students should take the role of parents and two students should take the role of teenagers.
  - Work with the student who has the same role as you.
     Read your role and prepare what you are going to say.
  - When you are ready, change partners and have your conversations.

Parents

It is Saturday night and your teenage son/daughter has gone out with friends. You are annoyed because

- you asked them to be back by midnight and they came home half an hour late
- you phoned their mobile but they did not answer
- this has already happened once before this month

Have a conversation with your teenage son/ daughter. Find out what happened and decide how to avoid this situation in the future.

Teenage son/daughter

It is Saturday night. You went out with your friends, but you promised your parent(s) you would be back by midnight. However, you got home half an hour late.

Have a conversation with your parents. Explain what happened and discuss how to avoid this situation in the future.

Speaking | Part 1

Exam Information

In Speaking Part 1, the examiner asks you questions about yourself. These may include questions about your life, your work or studies, your plans for the future, your family and your interests, etc.

- 2 Read the extract quickly to find out how Ewan McGregor became interested in motorbikes.

My first bike

Film star, Ewan McGregor, recently rode round the world on a motorbike. He talks about how he first took up riding motorbikes.

My biking beginnings can be summed up in two words: teenage love. My first girlfriend was small with short, mousy blonde hair, and I was mad about her. Our romance came to an abrupt end, however, when she started going out with another guy in my hometown, Crieff. He rode a 50cc road bike first and then a 125. And whereas I had always walked my girlfriend home, suddenly she was going back with this guy.

I was nearly sixteen by then and already heartbroken. Then one day, on the way back from a shopping trip to Perth with my mum, we passed Buchan's, the local bike shop. I urged my mother to stop the car. I got out, walked up the short hill to the shop and pressed my nose to the window. There was a light-blue 50cc bike on display right at the front of the shop. I didn't know what make it was, or if it was any good. Such trivialities were irrelevant to me. All I knew was that I could get it in three or four months' time when I was sixteen and allowed to ride it. Maybe I could even get my girlfriend back.

I'd ridden my first bike when I was about six. My father got hold of a tiny red Honda 50 cc and we headed off to a field that belonged to a family friend. I clambered on and shot off. I went all over the field. I thought it was just the best thing. I loved the smell of it, the sound of it, the look of it, the rush of it, the high-pitched screaming of the engine. Best of all, there was a Land Rover parked next to two large piles of straw with about a metre and a half between them. I knew that from where the adults were standing it looked as if there was no distance between them. Just one large heap of straw. I thought I would have a go. I came racing towards the adults, and shot right through the gap in the straw. I was thrilled to hear the adults scream and elated that it had frightened them. It was my first time on a motorbike. It was exciting and I wanted more.

So when I looked through Buchan's window in Perth that day, it suddenly all made sense to me. It was what had to happen. I can't remember whether it was to win back my ex-girlfriend's heart or not, but more than anything else it meant that, instead of having to walk everywhere, I could ride my motorbike to school and the games fields at the bottom of Crieff and when I went out at weekends.

I started to fantasise about it. I spent all my waking hours thinking about getting on and starting up the bike, putting on the helmet and riding around Crieff. I couldn't sleep. Driven to desperation by my desire for a bike, I made a series of promises to my mum: I won't leave town. I'll be very safe. I won't take any risks. I won't do anything stupid. But, in fact I was making the promises up — I never thought about keeping them.

At the time that I was begging for a bike, I'd already had an accident with a bike belonging to George Carson, the school laboratory technician. When I asked him if I could borrow it, he agreed, not knowing that I didn't have a clue how to ride it. The bike was in an alleyway up the side of the school hall. I managed to start it and zoomed down the alleyway until I crashed smack into a wall, bending the wheel and snapping the handlebars. Mr Carson came out to find me looking very red-faced. The bill for the damage came to more than £80, a fortune to a fifteen-year-old in those days and one that took me months of working as a dish washer and waiter at the Murray Park Hotel to pay back.

Cooking - it's creative and fun!

I first got interested in cookery one summer holiday when I was about 12. I was staying with my aunt, who is a keen cook, and I wanted to try cooking for myself. She started by teaching me how to do fairly simple dishes at first. I found I really enjoyed cooking and I was soon doing things which were more complicated. Not everything I cooked was as successful as my aunt's cooking. My younger brother and sister complained about some of my dishes, but they usually ate the food quite happily. When I went back to school after the summer, I decided to do cookery lessons and now I think I'm quite a competent cook. When friends come round to my house, I often cook them something because I find it really satisfying and relaxing. I find creating new dishes fascinating and it's wonderful to see my family and friends enjoying a meal I've cooked. I'd recommend it as a hobby because for me it's one of the most creative and useful free-time activities that anyone can do.

My nightmare holiday!

A Pauline Vernon - Malaysia

My dad was teaching in Kota Bharu, Malaysia. When my mum and I flew out to visit him for three weeks, he had already organised our stay in great detail. On our first evening we had a party on the beach. It was an idyllic scene: a beautiful empty beach, palm trees, white sand, the warm gentle waters of the South China Sea. I swam in the shallow water thinking "this is the life", when a jellyfish swam between my legs. The sting, on both legs, was agony, and it was only then I discovered that two people had died from jellyfish stings that year and until that point, no one had bothered to mention the sea-snakes, for whose bite there is no cure. I now understood why the beach was deserted.

B Sandy Henderson - the USA

I was on a camping holiday in Yosemite National Park in California with a friend, when I awoke to the sound of screaming. I looked out of my tent and saw my friend trying to get out of his sleeping bag, with a giant black bear rearing up behind him. Quite possibly the quickest I've ever got out of bed, I scrambled up and we both sprinted in no particular direction. By pure chance, we'd passed a small cabin a little way back on the trail and we made a dash for that, jumped inside and locked the door. Seconds later, the bear was scraping at the door as we cowered inside, afraid that the whole thing might fall off. After quite a long time, the bear lost interest and we were able to leave the shelter.

Cat O'Donovan - the USA

Twenty-three hours into an epic bus trip across the States, I began to wonder what I had let myself in for. I was at Denver bus station, sitting on my backpack, drinking coffee. Before boarding the first bus in LA, I had been filled with romantic ideas of friendship among the passengers and fascinating stops, as well as spectacular scenery. After the guy next to me had finished talking about his time in jail, I realised my expectations were a bit off. After all, I was 17 and travelling alone.

I had no idea when the next bus was, so I went up to the counter to ask. One unfriendly staff member was so large I feared she had eaten several passengers, so I waited until her colleague was free.

"Three-and-a-half hours," she said. I groaned. Would I ever reach New York? I sat back down to drink my coffee.

Graham Whitely - Nepal

It was not my first walking holiday to Nepal, but for some reason I no longer remember, I decided to go several weeks before the walking season actually began. There were no other walkers on the flight to Kathmandu, which suggested I might not have made the best decision. Walking to my empty hotel through rainy streets on the first night, I tried not to think what conditions would be like at higher altitudes.

Next day I flew to Tumlingtar to start walking up the remote, rarely visited Arun valley. As I climbed, the bushes on either side of the path were covered in ice and the weather was constantly cloudy. The lodges where I stayed were run by people who spoke no English, and the only meal available was boiled rice with lentil soup.

Each day required at least eight hours of unpleasant solitary walking, longing for a conversation with someone. During all the long walk towards Kathmandu, it continued cloudy and I never even saw a mountain.

Speaking | Part 3

Exam information

In Speaking Part 3:

- you and the other candidate must discuss a situation or problem together and reach a decision.
- the examiner gives you a page with a task consisting of a question and five different word prompts.
- you have 15 seconds to read and think about the task and then you have two minutes to discuss your ideas.
- the examiner then asks you another question (which is not written down) so that you can summarise your thoughts. You will have one minute to do this.

This part tests your ability to interact by exchanging ideas, discussing opinions, suggesting, agreeing, disagreeing, etc.

1 Work in pairs. Read the examiner's instructions and look at the task. Which phrases in the box below could you use to talk about each option?

I'd like you to imagine that your college has won first prize in a competition – a trip for all the students. Here are some ideas for trips that students could do and a question for you to discuss. Talk to each other about how these different trips could benefit the students.

become more self-confident become more independent learn to work in a team cope in another language be educational make a change from their everyday lives get a real thrill have new experiences appreciate other cultures learn teamwork tough conditions get away from their daily routine

2 10 Listen to two candidates, Miguel and Antonia, beginning this task. What benefits do they mention for three of the options?

3 In Speaking Part 3, it's important for candidates to react to each other's ideas and suggestions. You can do this by asking each other questions. Complete the students' questions below by writing a word or phrase from the box in the gaps. Then listen again to check your answers.

The speaker's voice falls or rises most on words which are stressed.

- 1 D11 Listen to these extracts from the conversation. Decide if the speaker's voice rises or falls on the underlined words.

- 2 Work in pairs. Take turns to read sentences 1–5 aloud.
- 3 Write two sentences of your own, explaining the benefits of two of the options in the speaking task. Decide which words you should stress and whether your voice should rise or fall on the stressed words. When you are ready, work in pairs and
  - take turns to read your sentences aloud
  - react to what your partner says with your own ideas.
- 5 Work in pairs. Do the first part of the task yourselves.
  - Ask each other the questions from (Speaking) Exercise 3.

  - decide together which strategies would be good for this part of the task. Write Y (yes) or N (no) next to each strategy
  - give reasons for your answers.

Now you have a minute to decide which trip the school should choose.

- 1 Talk about each of the options in turn again.
- 2 Suggest which option you would choose, say why, and ask your partner if he/she agrees.
- 3 Agree with the first option your partner suggests.

Learning about food

A school in California finds a new way to teach students about healthy eating

Alice Waters – chef and restaurant owner – is sitting in the kitchen garden of the Martin Luther King School in Berkeley, California. The kitchen garden is called the Edible Schoolyard, and students at this public school are preparing a vegetable bed as part of a lesson. Later, they will cook what they pick as part of their school lunch. 1 Each student receives between 18 and 40 hours' tuition a year in the Schoolyard, and as a result, what they eat at school has changed. A good part of the food grown here is used in the school's daily meals.

Waters has been fighting to improve children's diets for a decade, and in 1996 she started a campaign to raise funds for the Edible Schoolyard and the School Lunch Initiative. 2 And Waters hopes that they will set an example for other parts of the country as well. "We have such a huge problem of bad eating habits in the United States that teaching about food cannot be left to parents," she says. "So many children generally are eating fast, cheap, easy food that something has to be done."

Marsha Guerrero, director of the School Lunch Initiative, explains how it all works. "This is mainly a teaching garden," she says. " 3 " Nearby farms therefore also supply food as part of the regular lunches at the school. These are prepared using fresh organic ingredients when possible.

Typical classes in the Edible Schoolyard involve plenty of gardening activity. However, they are not a break from normal school work, as academic projects are always attached. In one lesson, the students are asked to choose one part of the garden as their personal spot for the entire year. They then observe and record in a journal what happens in this spot as time progresses. They record their observations of insect life, the soil and changes to the plants. 4

Classes in the kitchen involve cooking lunch, but also link into classroom academic subjects. The food cooked here includes a range of dishes from pasta to stuffed vine leaves and delicious Italian omelettes filled with herbs and vegetables. The recipes are dictated by what vegetables are available. Science is taught through nutrition and cooking technique; geography through the effects of the seasons and eating habits around the world.

Today's midday meal consists of homemade pesto and tomato sandwiches, with a big vegetable salad. Everyone is eating. Teo Hernandez, 13, says he has changed the way he eats. "I can now cook and grow things," he says. "I don't know yet if I will continue doing so in the future, but I know I can. I have changed my attitude to food; I like some herbs and lettuce and I use less salt. It's been fun, the teachers are nice – and there's no homework." Teo has been in the US for only three years, but his teachers say he has learned to speak perfect English in such a short time because he is so happy at school.

But has Alice Waters succeeded? Is the Edible Schoolyard model the way forward? 6 "When kids become unhealthy due to bad diet, they become isolated," says Waters. "But eating such good food and picking, smelling and cooking the vegetables and fruit is this garden makes there early about in this garden makes them care about what they eat – and it shows them that we care about them. Just seeing a child saying to another, 'Would you like some?' – that is the essential thing."

Anns

I'm 16 years old and I'm interested in coming to your country for a few months to learn the language. I know a little of the language, but I'd like to speak it much better because I might decide to study it at university in future. What do you think I should do? Should I do an educational exchange and find a family with people my own age to stay with, or would it be better to stay at home and do an online course or go to a language school in my town?

At school abroad

Have you ever thought of studying abroad? Four students who studied abroad relate their experiences ...

Divya Singh from Cardiff went to Chile

I went to a talk given by a couple of older students who had been on an exchange programme the previous year, and it occurred to me that if I could persuade my mum, this would be just the sort of break from normal school routine that

I needed. I filled in my application while holding out little hope of being selected. However I was, and was soon immersed in a totally different educational culture, which helped me to appreciate many aspects of my school back home. Another great advantage of my year abroad was that I picked up Spanish much more quickly than in classes back home and, because my teachers were pretty demanding, I even feel confident writing it now. As a result, I'm considering doing Spanish and Latin American studies at university and perhaps after that going into the diplomatic service.

Bruce Brown from Sydney went to England

Although my parents had insisted that I went, I knew what a sacrifice they were making to pay for my year abroad, so I was determined to make the most of the opportunity. My host family was really welcoming, but what I found hard to get used to were the seemingly endless days of grey drizzle and the fact that it got dark so early in winter. Even so, I took every chance to get out and meet people, make friends and get a real, in-depth experience of English life. At the same time, I was keen to make an impact at school and get good grades, although I found the schoolwork quite challenging and not really the highlight of my stay. Even so, I learned far more than I expected, made a lot of friends and came away with the impression that the British are a lot more interesting than I had been given to expect by people back home.

Nelson Grace from Boston went to New Zealand

I lived on a farm on South Island, where my host family had a vast flock of about 3,000 sheep. Being a city boy, the experience of farming life was totally novel, but I loved it and took every opportunity to go out and help with the work of the farm. I also got involved in lots of sporting activities with my school, including sailing, rugby and skiing – all firsts for me. I found New Zealanders so enthusiastic about everything that I used to get up with a buzz of excitement and, unlike back home, I actually looked forward to going into school every day. I also think I matured a lot during my year abroad. I'm not so dependent now on my family or my teachers to make me study, and I've learned to get on with all sorts of different people, even if they're not my type. I've also learned a bit about the value of money!

Carmen Echevarria from Bilbao went to Scotland

After four years in a state secondary school in Bilbao, it was a huge shock to find myself in a private all-girls school in the Highlands of Scotland, where everyone wore uniforms. Studying there was a complete revelation to me: gone were the hours spent in the evenings memorising huge numbers of useless facts for tests the next day which I would forget as soon as the test was over. Instead, we spent a lot of time discussing issues, solving problems and writing creatively. I missed my friends back home, but really appreciated learning to think in new ways and seeing that education could be so creative. I missed not sharing my classes with boys, but on the other hand, we probably concentrated harder and may have felt more relaxed about the opinions we expressed.

Writing | Part 1 An essay

1 Read this writing task and discuss the essay question with a partner. Make a note of all your ideas and opinions from the discussion.

In your English class, you have been talking about what subjects should be compulsory at secondary school.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all the notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

All young people should study a foreign language as part of their education. Do you agree?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. working life
- 2. travel and holidays
- 3. ..... (your own idea)
- 2 Work alone and write a plan for your essay. Then compare your plan with your partner's.
- 3 Read Marina's essay plan and then answer the questions below.
  - Para. 1: Brief intro present situation: more contact with other countries, more travel my view: essential
  - Para. 2: necessary to get a job; useful for international work
  - Para. 3: going abroad speaking with local people: more enjoyable + you learn more
  - Para. 4: using the Internet– mainly in English: essential information for all aspects of life give examples
  - Para. 5: conclusion my opinion: people who can't speak f. lang. have fewer opportunities.
  - 1 Has she repeated words or phrases from the task in her plan? Why? / Why not?
  - 2 How long do you think it took her to write the plan?
  - 3 Has she covered all the points in the task? Why is this important?

- 4 Work in groups. Read the three opening paragraphs below (1–3).
  - Which paragraph do you think is best? Why?
  - What is wrong with the other two paragraphs?

Although most young people spend many hours at school learning a foreign language, usually English, for most of them the result is that they do not learn to speak it well and all this time is wasted. Instead, they could be learning mathematics or computer science, which are both really useful subjects. Is learning a foreign language a useful school subject? I will give you my opinion at the end.

2

In the past, only educated people in high society learned to speak foreign languages. This was mainly because only they could afford an education. However, as time has passed, education has become available to all children, and foreign-language learning has become increasingly common. Why do young people have to study foreign languages, and how do they benefit from doing so? That's the question.

3

In the modern world, we have to work and communicate with people from other countries. For this reason, I believe that learning a foreign language is an essential part of modern education.

5 Match these teachers' comments (a–c) with each of the opening paragraphs in Exercise 4.

- A good opening paragraph. You've stated your point of view clearly and directly and related it to the present situation.
- It's just two sentences, so plenty of space for the rest of the task!

h

- The history of language learning is not relevant to the task.
- Your question is not the question in the task, so also irrelevant. Stick carefully to the writing task.
- Your intro is 63 words you now have a maximum of 120 words for dealing with the task. If you don't deal with the task exactly, you won't pass the exam!

- You've started the essay with an opinion, not an introduction to the topic. Will your final opinion be different?
- The paragraph is too long.
- You don't appear to have planned the essay you've just started with the first idea that occurred to you. Remember: you'll lose marks if your essay is not well planned and organised.
- 6 Now write your own opening paragraph for the task in Exercise 1.
- 7 Complete Marina's answer below by writing the words and phrases from the box (which she uses for linking her ideas together) in the gaps.

a further point is that also do so for all these reasons for example when if it these opportunities with the result that

In the modern world, we work and communicate with people from other countries. For this reason, I believe that learning a foreign language is an essential part of modern education.

In their free time, many people like to travel and, (5) ....................... they can speak to local people, they enjoy their holidays more and learn about the places they visit. If they cannot speak a language, they probably stay in their own country and miss seeing other places.

All young people who have the opportunity should study in a foreign school or college for a year. Do you agree?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. what they learn
- 2. growing up
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

9 Write your essay following your plan. You should write between 140 and 190 words. You can use Marina's essay in Exercise 7 as a model.

Exam advice

Make sure that you:

- read the question carefully and underline the key words to make sure that you know exactly what to do
- answer the question exactly
- deal with all the points below the question
- include your own idea.

Write a brief first paragraph which:

- states why the question is important

Reading and Use of English | Part 5

- 1 You are going to read an extract from the autobiography of Lucy Irvine, whose first job was in her father's hotel. Before you read, work in groups. What do you think are the advantages and disadvantages of working with your parents?
- 2 Read the extract quickly to answer these questions.
  - 1 What was Lucy's job?
  - 2 What part of her job involved making things?

Lucy's first job

When I was just 16, my father bought an old guesthouse in the village where we lived and decided to turn it into a luxury hotel. At the early stages of the hotel, he experimented with everything. None of us had ever worked in a hotel before, but my dad had a vision of what guests would like to see. His standards were uncompromisingly high and he believed that in order to achieve those standards the most important thing was work.

For a month that summer, my name was down on the duty roster as waitress at breakfast and dinner, which included laying the tables in the dining room beforehand and hoovering and glass polishing afterwards. This gave me the middle of the day free for studying because, predictably, my school report had not lived up to my father's high expectations.

Like all the other waitresses, I was equipped with a neat little uniform and instructions to treat the guests as though they were special visitors in my own home. Although I did not feel comfortable with this, I did not express my feelings. Instead I concentrated all my attention on doing the job as well as, if not better than, the older girls.

I soon learned how to tackle the two most daunting installations in the kitchen: the dishwasher and the chef, Gordon. He had an impressive chef's hat and a terrifying ability to lose his temper and get violent for no clear reason. His breath was strong and fishy, and I avoided close contact with him and always grabbed the dishes he set down with a forbidding expression on my face which was transformed into a charming smile in the brief space between kitchen and dining room.

Breakfast waitressing was, I found, more enjoyable than the dinner shift. The guests came wandering into the dining room from seven thirty onwards, staring with appreciation at the view of sea and islands through the dining-room window. If the day looked promising, I would note down requests for boats and packed lunches along with their breakfast orders. It was a matter of pride to me that everyone got their order promptly, and I took pleasure in my ability to get on with the people at each table.

It was funny how differently people behaved in the evenings, dressed up and talking with louder, colder voices, not always returning my smile. However, that all changed when Dad, who was keen to make full use of my potential, created a special role for me which made me feel considerably more important.

It began with a few modest trays of cakes for the guests' packed lunches and progressed swiftly to fancy cakes for afternoon teas. I found that recipes were easy to follow and it was amusing to improvise. This led to the climax: a nightly extravaganza known as Lucy's Sweet Trolley. Every evening, I made a grand entrance, wheeling before me a trolley carrying the most extraordinary collection of puddings, cakes and other desserts ever to grace a Scottish hotel. Most were things I had invented myself and I had cooked all of them. Some – Jacobite Grenades, Mocha Genghis Khan and Goat's Milk Bavarios to name a few – were undeniably strange. It was Dad's idea that I should dress smartly and stop at each table and recite the name of each dish.

- 4 Read Pablo's email to Rosie, ignoring the spelling mistakes, and answer these questions.
  - 1 How does Pablo begin and end his email?
  - 2 How do we know the subject of each of the three main paragraphs straight away?

Hi Rosie

It's good to hear from you.

In Spain, many students find part-time or casual work as waiters or kitchen workers in cafés or restaurans quite easely. Students usually do these sorts of jobs in the evenings, at weekends or in the summer.

Students who work have two main problems. First, it can be quite difficult for students to combine employment with the large amount of homework and studing for exams wich they have to do. Second, although they have to work extremely hard, the jobs are often not well payed. On the other hand, the money is usefull becaus it helps them to continue with their corses and have some pocket money.

Finding a job is usually straightforward, especialy if you live in a big city, or in an area which is visited by tourists. Many places put an advertisment in the window saying that they are looking for staff, so you just walk in and ask to speak to the manager. For many people, this is the most effective way of finding a job because they'll take you on immediately!

I hope this helps and good luck with your project.

Cheers.

Are you ready for an adventure race?

Rebecca Rusch has competed in several Eco-Challenge races, where teams of four men and women race non-stop over a 500 km course which includes trekking, canoeing, horse riding, scuba diving, mountaineering and mountain biking.

need for experience

Obviously, I did not feel so ready for the early races in my career as the races we have done recently. There is a lot to be said for just gaining experience. Just getting out there and getting your feet wet teaches you the right skills and attitude.

It's often not the most physically prepared or the fittest teams that win. The ones who come first are the teams who race intelligently and adapt to unexpected situations.

The only way to develop those qualities is to get out and race or do long training trips with your team-mates and friends.

Adventure races are such a huge challenge that when you enter a race you always think, "Am I ready? Did I train enough? Did I forget something?" I remember one race in particular, my very first Eco-Challenge and only my second race ever. 2 A 24-hour race seemed like an eternity to me. My background was cross-country running in high school and college where a two- or three-mile race seemed long. Most of my fear was due to lack of experience and knowledge. I really had no idea what I was getting into because I had never done a 24-hour race before. 3

In preparation for Australia, I tried to approach my training in a methodical way. Looking back, I wasn't methodical at all. In fact, what I did involved simply running, biking and paddling a kayak as much and as hard as I could. I was also working at the same time. In reality, I was training a couple of hours a day during the week to get fit and at weekends training with the team for perhaps four hours. 4

I spent the rest of the time worrying about how slow I was.

So, we went to Australia and entered the race. We didn't plan a strategy at all, but just ran as fast as possible from the start. I just tried to keep up with my team-mates, who were more experienced than I was. 5 It was a furious 36 hours. We arrived at a few of the check points in first place and were among the top five. I knew we didn't belong there.

To cut a long story short, two of my team-mates decided not to continue the race after just a day and a half. One was suffering hallucinations and feeling ill. He was just too tired to carry on. 6 We had been going so fast that he felt uncomfortable asking us to stop so he could take care of his blisters. The other two of us, feeling fresh still, had to drop out with the rest of our team. Four days later, we watched in disappointment as the winners crossed the finishing line. I knew that our team had not been prepared or realistic about the pace we could keep, but not finishing that race was the most valuable lesson I could have learned.

I promised then to come back one day and finish the race. That was seven years (and thousands of race miles) ago.

Speaking | Part 3

- 1 Before you start this speaking section, look at the work you did on Speaking Part 3 on pages 37–38. Work in pairs. Read the examiner's instructions and the speaking task below. Then take about two minutes to do the task together.
  - I'd like you to imagine that your college is interested in getting students to do more sport. Here are some ideas they are thinking about and a question for you to dicuss. First, you have some time to look at the task. Now talk to each other about why these ideas might encourage students to do more sport.

A visit to the A talk by a national athletics professional championships footballer How could these activities encourage students to do more sport? A weekend A school doing adventure sports day sports Free membership of a sports club

2 Look at this checklist. Which things did you do?

		yes	no
1	Talk about all of the activities.
2	Listen to each other and respond to what the other person says.
3	Ask each other's opinion.
4	Interrupt each other.
5	One student tried to speak much more than the other.

- 3 26 Now listen to Miguel and Irene doing the speaking task from Exercise 1. Which of the things on the checklist in Exercise 2 did they do?
- 4 Listen to Miguel and Irene again and write each of these phrases in the correct column in the table below.

Hew do you think ...? Well, perhaps ... Yes, and ...

I imagine students would see ... Maybe, but ...

suggesting ideas	asking your partner's opinion	disagreeing
	How do you think?

5 Pronunciation: intonation (2)

Irene:

You will make a good impression in the exam if you sound interested and enthusiastic about what you discuss. You can use intonation to show your interest.

1 27 Listen to how the voices rise and fall on the highlighted words.

Miguel: Well, perhaps this could be organised in a more adult way, you know, with some serious sports for people who were interested and less serious activities for other people. That way everyone could get involved.

Yes, good idea, and people could be organised into teams and it could all be made quite competitive and enjoyable at the same time. When I think about it, it could be really successful.

- 2 Now work in pairs and read the extract aloud. Take turns as Miguel and Irene.
- 6 Work in pairs. Follow the examiner's instructions for the second part of Speaking Part 3.

7 Work in pairs.

1 Take about two minutes to do the first part of this speaking task.

I'd like you to imagine that a town wants young people to spend their free time in ways which are useful for them. Here are some ideas that they are thinking about and a question for you to discuss. Talk to each other about how these ideas would provide useful ways for young people to spend their free time.

2 Now follow the examiner's instructions for the second part of Speaking Part 3.

Now you have a minute to decide which two facilities the town should build.

Exam advice

When you discuss the first part of the task, you needn't talk about all of the options, but you should make suggestions, ask your partner's opinion and respond to your partner's ideas.

When you discuss the second part of the task, it's not necessary to reach agreement, but you should:

- discuss which option(s) to choose and give reasons for choice(s)
- listen and respond to what your partner says. Don't be afraid to disagree politely – this can lead to a good discussion.

- Discuss the ideas each of you could express to deal with the points you have underlined in the task.
- Which ideas would you use in your article?
- 3 Read the article on page 83, which was written by Nacho Pallas.
  - What does he enjoy about his way of taking exercise?
     Why?

Rugby: rough but fun

I love playing rugby. I started playing the game at school when I was just nine years old. It was compulsory to do a sport three afternoons a week, and in winter the boys had to play rugby. I immediately found I enjoyed it, despite not being as big as other boys my age. However, I was quite athletic, so I could often run past my opponents and score points by being more agile than them.

Although it's quite a rough game with complicated rules, it keeps you fit because you have to run for 90 minutes, so you also have to train several times a week. For people who are competitive and enjoy playing in a team, it's great fun. You can play it at any level, but if you want to win a trophy, you'll need someone to coach you so that you learn the best tactics and learn to work effectively together.

Although you can sometimes get hurt, I would recommend the game to anyone who enjoys ball games, running and keeping fit. However, if you decide you don't want to actually play, it's a great sport for spectators as well.

- 4 Look at the structure of the article. In which paragraph does Nacho deal with these points?
  - 1 He describes a sporting activity.
  - 2 How he started.
  - 3 Why he would recommend it.
- 5 Study how the words and phrases in italics in Nacho's article are used. Then complete these sentences by writing although, however or despite in the gaps.
  - 1 .....the swimming pool is quite far from where I live, I try to go there three times a week.
  - 2 ...... being given tickets to the football match, we decided to watch it on TV.

  - 4 He was very easy to talk to ......being a famous tennis star.
  - 5 Ten per cent of British teenagers dream of becoming sports stars. ....., very few will achieve their ambition.
  - 6 I won the game ......I'd never played badminton
  - 7 ......feeling very tired, she managed to finish the race.
  - 8 I didn't enjoy the match. ....., our opponents played very well.

  - Try to use structures and vocabulary you have studied in this Writing section and this unit.
  - Write between 140 and 190 words.
  - Read through your article when you have finished to improve it and to check it for mistakes.

Exam advice

- Write a plan before you start writing the article.
- Organise your ideas into paragraphs, and use linking words such as: however, despite, in addition, for example and on the other hand.

Before you write:

- think about what the people reading the article will find interesting, enjoyable or useful
- write a plan by:
  - underlining all the points you must deal with
  - organising your ideas into paragraphs so that you cover everything you've been asked to do. Often each underlined point will form the topic of a paragraph.

8 Dream of the stars

Starting off

- 1 Work in groups. Look at the photos and compare these different types of star. Talk about:
  - income/money
  - preparation and training
  - length of career
  - the advantages and disadvantages of being famous.
- 2 If you could be a star, what sort of star would you like to be? Why?

Reading and Use of English | Part 7

- 1 You will read a newspaper article about five actors at the beginning of their careers. Before you read, discuss this question in pairs.
  - What are the advantages and disadvantages of working as an actor?
- 2 Read questions 1–10 and underline the main idea in each question.

Which actor

believes actors must be ready to accept negative comments?

feels that they have learned a lot from people already working in the theatre and TV?

says that listening to other people's suggestions improves their acting?

has always been excited by having people watching their acting?

had planned to enter a different profession before training to become an actor?

prefers working in theatre rather than in cinema or television?

did not want to work outside the theatre initially?

feels worried about performing in front of some important people?

originally tried to train as an actor somewhere else?

wasn't so interested in acting in the theatre initially?

3 Now read the newspaper article. For questions 1–10, choose from the people A–E.

Exam advice

- Many of the sections may say quite similar things.
   You will have to read carefully to decide which section answers the question exactly.
- Guess difficult words from the context when you think it will help you to answer a question.
- Underline phrases in the texts which give you the answers and check them against the questions.

4 Work in groups.

- Have you ever performed in public (e.g. acting, speaking in public, dancing, doing a sport)?
- How did you feel about the experience? What did you enjoy about it? What did you dislike?

The curtains open in the theatre as a group of young actors make their way on to the stage. These are some young Edinburgh-based actors doing the final performance of their drama course.

Scott Hoatson

22-year-old Scott is already a step ahead of his classmates, as he has been offered a year-long contract with the National Theatre of Scotland's under-26 theatre group. He was discovered by someone from the theatre while performing in plays in Edinburgh and St Andrews, but he admits the students' final performance in front of directors and agents is still nerve-wracking. "It's so important for all of us. The fact that there are artistic directors from the big theatres who come to watch makes it such a big opportunity. There's so much happening in Scotland at the moment. There are a lot of opportunities up here, so it makes sense to stay closer to home. When I started the course, I thought that stage acting was the only thing I wanted to do, but now I want to do everything I can — whether it's on stage, TV, film or radio."

B Kim Gerard

21-year-old Kim got her first taste of performing as a ballet dancer when she was just two and has been hooked on performing ever since. Although her ballet days are now behind her, she admits that it gave her a great introduction to the profession. "It was just so exhilarating to get up on stage and perform in front of an audience. Acting is the only thing that I have ever really wanted to do, and this course has let me do my training close to home. Even though I'd done some theatre before, I always wanted to get into TV. I really liked the idea of being a famous, well-paid TV star in a drama series. But now, I've realised acting on stage is just as good."

C Allan Scott-Douglas

Although 23-year-old Allan has been interested in performing since his early teens, it was only in his second year of a primary teaching degree at Edinburgh University that he decided to pursue a career as an actor. "I kind of got into it by accident," he admits. "I was more of a singer, but I ended up doing musical theatre and absolutely loved it. I'm pretty much open to anything. I suppose my heart will always belong to theatre, as there's a live audience there in front of you, but the film and TV work we've done has been great fun too, so I'd love to do some more. If you want to achieve your ambitions as a young actor, you've got to go where the work is. If I'm offered a job down in London, there's no way I'd ever be able to turn it down."

Romana Abercromby

26-year-old Romana says she got involved with a lot of drama productions when she was still at school. "When I left school, I realised that it was the only thing I wanted to do. I tried applying to drama schools down in London, but after being rejected by them, I took a year out to go travelling. This course has given us so many useful skills and brought us into contact with so many actors and directors who have told us all about the industry. And we've been able to gain some experience with TV as well as stage acting, which has been great. When it comes down to finding work, if it's in Scotland, that's great, but I'd love to travel around, too."

Neil Thomas

20-year-old Neil was just seven years old when he joined an after-school youth theatre company, which gave him his first taste of acting on stage. "I went once or twice a week and adored it," he says. "I was always keen to show off at school, so it was the perfect outlet for me to perform properly. I've had the chance to do a lot of different types of acting, and the training has been invaluable. It's intense, but everyone knows that's the nature of the career and you have to be prepared. People will give you all sorts of advice about your acting, which helps you to strip away your bad habits. In our profession, you have to be prepared for brutal criticism, because that's what you'll expect when you start working."

  - 8 This is normal for popular YouTubers.

Exam advice

- Read the title and the text quickly to get a general idea of what it's about.
- Deal with the gaps one by one. Read carefully before and after the gap. The words in each option will be similar in meaning, but only one will fit correctly into the gap.
- Check that the word fits into the sentence grammatically by looking at prepositions and other grammatical structures.
- If you are not sure which option is correct, reject the options you think are wrong and choose from the others.
- When you have finished, read the whole text quickly again to check your answers.
- 5 Discuss one of these questions in groups.
  - 1 Have you ever uploaded something onto a video-sharing website such as YouTube? If so, what?
  - 2 What would you like to upload onto YouTube? Why? / Why not?

Speaking | Part 4

1 29 In Speaking Part 4, the examiner will ask you questions which encourage you to give your opinions on topics related to Part 3. Read and listen to Antonia and Peter answering the examiner's question. Underline the words or phrases they use to speak in general.

Examiner: Do you think schools should teach subjects such as dance, drama or music?

Antonia: Well, I think generally speaking schools should teach these subjects to small children so that they can find out if they like them. think these subjects help children to learn how to express themselves. But I don't think generally it's so important for older children or teenagers to do these subjects because they tend to have lots of other things to study. So, on the whole, I guess these subjects should be voluntary, not compulsory as children get older.

Peter:

Examiner: Peter, do you agree with Antonia? Generally, yes, but I feel it's a pity when students don't have time for the subjects they enjoy.

- 2 Look at the answer again.
  - 1 How does Antonia give a balanced answer?
  - 2 What reasons does she give?
  - 3 Which of these things does Peter do?
  - a He just says he agrees.
  - b He says he agrees, but adds his own opinion.
  - c He says he agrees and gives a reason.
- 3 Work alone. Think of general things you can say to give a balanced answer to this question. Then in pairs take turns to ask and answer this question.
  - Do you think that schools should teach subjects such as painting and photography? Why? / Why not?
- 4 Pronunciation: grouping words and pausing (2)

We tend to pause between groups of words which form a meaning together, for example: The family had a small shop / just round the corner from where we live, / and one day my aunt was working there on her own.

- 1 Look back to Exercise 4 in the Speaking section on page 46. Then use a ( / ) to mark where you think Antonia and Peter pause in their answers in Speaking Exercise 1.
- 2 29 Now listen again and check your answers.
- 3 Work in pairs. Take the part of Antonia or Peter and read their answers aloud.
- 4 Note down your own ideas to answer the examiner's question in (Speaking) Exercise 1 and think where you will pause as you speak. Then take turns to answer the question.

- 5 EP Read these questions. Then decide which phrases in the box you could use in your answer to each question. Some phrases can be used for more than one answer.
  - 1 Do you think that all young people should learn to play a musical instrument? Why? / Why not?
  - 2 What things do young people learn from acting in plays?
  - 3 What are the advantages of seeing a film in the cinema instead of on television?

  - 5 Which do you think is the purpose of television: to entertain or to educate people? Why?

a celebrity
a compulsory/voluntary activity avoid/cause a scandal develop their acting/musical abilities develop their artistic expression develop their musical knowledge help society develop disturb/protect someone's privacy interrupt a film with advertisements make people aware of problems the media

work in a team

6 Work alone and think how you can give balanced, general answers to each question in Exercise 5. Then work in pairs and take turns to ask and answer the questions.

Exam advice

- Many of the questions will be general questions of opinion; give your opinion and support it with reasons and or examples.
- Don't be afraid to give your honest opinion there are no right or wrong answers.
- Listen carefully to what your partner says: you may be asked if you agree.

1 Read this writing task and underline the key points you must deal with.

In your English class, you have been talking about the advantages of being famous as a film star.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all the notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

Being famous as a film star has both advantages and disadvantages. Do you agree?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. media attention
- 2. lifestyle
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

- 2 Work in groups. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of being famous as an actor or film star. While you discuss, you should:
  - note down the main points of your discussion
  - cover all three notes in the essay task in Exercise 1.
- 3 Work alone and write a brief plan for your essay. In your plan, you should have:
  - the number of paragraphs
  - the main idea of each paragraph.

- 4 Look back to page 60, Exercises 4 and 5. Then write your own opening paragraph. When you have finished, work in pairs and compare your paragraphs.
- 5 Work in pairs. Read this opening paragraph.
  - How does it compare with yours?

Many young people dream of achieving fame as actors or film stars. However, it is a life which has both advantages and disadvantages.

- 6 Javier wrote a balanced essay to answer the question in the writing task. Read the essay. Then work in pairs to answer questions 1–6 below.
- a Many young people dream of achieving fame as film stars. However, it is a life which has both advantages and disadvantages.
- b There are three main advantages. Firstly, if actors are well-known, people will want to watch their films and if their films are popular, they will be offered more jobs in the future. Also, they live exciting and glamorous lives with plenty of foreign travel and luxury. There is no doubt that most actors find this very enjoyable. Finally, fame and success go together.
- c On the other hand, fame brings disadvantages for actors too. First, many film stars have little privacy or time to themselves because they are always being followed by reporters and photographers. Next, people with glamorous lifestyles meet other glamorous people and this can sometimes cause problems with, for example, their family relationships. Finally, they have to work very hard to be successful and this may lead to considerable stress.
- d To conclude, I think for film stars the advantages of being famous outweigh the disadvantages because being well-known is a result of their professional success. However, they need common sense to deal with the disadvantages.
  - 1 Are Javier's ideas about being famous similar to yours?
- 2 How does he balance his arguments in the essay?
- 3 What is the purpose of the underlined phrases in the essay?
- 4 Highlight words and phrases he uses to link ideas together throughout the essay.
- 5 In which paragraph (a–d) does Javier give his own opinion?
- 6 Why is it important to make your opinion clear?

7 Work alone.

- 1 Write a second paragraph where you outline the advantages you discussed in Exercise 2. Start it using an introductory sentence.
- 2 Write a third paragraph where you balance the advantages of the second paragraph with the disadvantages. Start it with an introductory sentence as well.
- 8 Write your answer to the writing task below.
  - Follow the stages of underlining, thinking of ideas and planning that you have practised.
  - Use Javier's answer in Exercise 6 as a model.
  - You should write between 140 and 190 words.

In your English class, you have been talking about the advantages and disadvantages of a career in music or acting.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all the notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

There are both advantages and disadvantages to a career as a musician or an actor. Do you agree?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. doing something you enjoy
- 2. becoming well known
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

Exam advice

- To make your argument easy to follow, you can start paragraphs with a short sentence which says what the paragraph is about.
- If you decide to write a 'balanced essay', try to have the same number of points in favour as against, or advantages as disadvantages.
- The writing task will not be complete unless you express your personal opinion clearly.

The secrets of happiness

Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi has devoted his life to studying happiness. He believes he has found the key.

I've been fascinated by happiness most of my life. When I was a small boy, I noticed that though many of the adults around me were wealthy and educated, they were not always happy and this

- sometimes led them to behave in ways which I, as a child, thought strange. As a result of this, I decided to understand what happiness was and how best to achieve it. It was not surprising, then, that I decided to study psychology.
- On arrival at the University of Chicago 50 years ago, I was disappointed to find that academic psychologists were trying to understand human behaviour by studying rats in a laboratory. I felt that there must be other more useful ways of - learning how we think and feel. Although my original aim had been to achieve happiness for myself, I became more ambitious. I decided to build my career on trying to discover what made others happy also. I started out by studying
- creative people such as musicians, artists and athletes because they were people who devoted their lives to doing what they wanted to do, rather than things that just brought them financial rewards.
- Later, I expanded the study by inventing a system called 'the experience sampling method'. Ordinary people were asked to keep an electronic pager for a week which gave out a beeping sound eight times a day. Every time it did so, they
- 30 wrote down where they were, what they were doing, how they felt and how much they were concentrating. This system has now been used on more than 10,000 people, and the answers are consistent: as with creative people, ordinary
- people are happiest when concentrating hard.

After carrying out 30 years of research and writing 18 books, I believe I have proved that happiness is quite different from what most people imagine. It is not something that can be bought or collected. People need more than 40 just wealth and comfort in order to lead happy lives. I discovered that people who earn less than £10,000 are not generally as happy as people whose incomes are above that level. This suggests that there is a minimum amount of 45 money we need to earn to make us happy, but above that dividing line, people's happiness has very little to do with how much poorer or richer they are. Multi-millionaires turn out to be only slightly happier than other people who are not 50 so rich. What is more, people living below the dividing line and in poverty are often quite happy too.

55 is intense concentration. This must be the main reason why activities such as music, art, literature, sports and other forms of leisure have survived. In order to concentrate, whether you're reading a poem or building a sandcastle, what you need is a challenge that matches your ability. The way to remain continually happy, therefore, is to keep finding new opportunities to improve your skills. This may mean learning to do your job better or faster, or doing other more difficult jobs. As you grow older, you have to find new challenges which are more appropriate to your age. I have spent my life studying happiness and now, as I look back, I wonder if I have achieved it. Overall, I think I have, and my belief that I have found the keys to its secret has increased my 70 happiness immeasurably.

I found that the most obvious cause of happiness

- 1 Work in groups. You are going to read an article about shopping in the UK. Before you read, discuss these questions.
  - What are the advantages and disadvantages of shopping online?
  - Why is it a problem for a town when local shops have to close?

2 Read this article in one minute ignoring the gaps. What does the writer say are the advantages of using local shops and shopping online?

Shopping online versus shopping locally

Local shops should be more (6) .......clubs which provide personal service and social relationships, and each shop should be seen (7) ....... something unique. To meet this need, in some parts of the world shops shut for hours during the day, then do excellent business in the evening, when they aim to give customers (8) ....... more satisfying experience than they would ever have from shopping online.

- 3 Work alone. Decide which word best fits each gap. Where you are not sure, think of the type of word (preposition, article, etc.) you need. When you have finished, compare your ideas with the rest of the group.
- 4 Work in pairs.
  - Do you or members of your family ever buy things online? If so, what are your favourite websites for online shopping?

- Pay careful attention to the meaning of the text to help you think of the right word.
- Read to the end of each sentence before deciding what the missing word might be.
- Answer all the questions. If you can't decide what word to write, think what type of word you need (preposition, pronoun, etc.) and guess.

Reading and Use of English | Part 5

- 1 Work in groups. You will read a story called 'My greatest influence' written by a teenager from Texas. Before you read, discuss these questions.
  - Who or what has had the greatest influence on you?
  - How have they / has it influenced you?
- 2 Read the story quite quickly to find out what happens.

My greatest influence By Rachel S., Colleyville, Texas

Sundays, I walk to the supermarket. Mother hands me the grocery list and puts money in my pocket, hoping it will be enough. She's had a hard day, and I've had a hard week. Nothing out of the ordinary happens when I get to the store. I grab the bread, some milk, and other things on the list. As I turn to head out, I see it, all pinks and yellows. It looks gorgeous in the window, and I'm sure if I were to try it on, it would be a perfect fit. I smile for a moment and turn away, bitter that I could never own such a dress as that. Instead, I grab the last item and check out.

Outside, traffic zooms by, an artificial breeze across my face. The sun beats down, making me sweat. These paper sacks in my arms are not the easiest things to carry. Yet, even with all these distractions, I cannot stop thinking about that pretty sundress in the window of the market. It is not fair that I can never have what I want. I work so hard to help my family and yet I get nothing in return, just another grocery list or errand to do.

In my anger, I fail to realize the tear that had been growing along the bottom of one of the sacks. Its contents spill out everywhere so that I must drop everything else just to chase after the soup cans and apples rolling across the sidewalk. Suddenly, I see a pair of hands that do not belong to me. They hold out to me a can of green beans. I follow them up the forearms, from the shoulders, and to the face of this stranger. His skin is tanned and wrinkled from so many years in the sun. His clothes are mismatched, borrowed or stolen. But his eyes are soft and kind.

I pause in silence, only able to stare at him. "Huh ... thanks," I say, coming to my senses, and I take the can from him. No other words are spoken as he continues to help me recover my purchases and get back on my feet.

There is an awkward silence between us. Not knowing what else to say in this sort of situation, I tell him "thank you" one more time and am on my way because I have many other chores to finish. Suddenly, he speaks for the first time, and all he says is "Have a good day, ma'am." And then he gives me the biggest, most gap-toothed smile I have ever seen. Right then, he looks years younger—and I feel a fool.

Look at me, feeling sorry for myself because I do not get what I want! Do I not think others are in the same boat, or worse? I am but one person out of the billions that exist on this earth, so who am I to think that I deserve more than I already have?

To say that I try to follow the example of just one person would be to oversimplify things. The human character is much more complex than that. Just as our world is shaped by many different outside sources, so, too, have I been influenced by many familiar and unfamiliar faces.

It is not a matter of who, but what, has been the greatest influence in my life. I do not wish to be that homeless man on the street, for he has taught me with one genuine smile that my life is enough, and that there are worse things out there than not having a pink and yellow sundress. But it is his selfless character that continues to mold me.

My mother will hand me the grocery list today. I will make the same journey to the supermarket, and most likely, I will get the same items as last time. And I will probably see something I want but cannot have. But before I start to feel sorry for myself, I will remember the kind stranger with the gap-toothed grin, I'll grab the last item, and check out.

Speaking | Part 1

- 1 Read these Speaking Part 1 questions and note down a few ideas you could use to answer each of them (do not write complete sentences).
  - 1 What things do you enjoy spending money on?
  - 2 What do teenagers in your country typically spend their money on?
  - 3 Do you have a favourite shop? (Can you describe it to us?)
  - 4 Is there anything you'd like to buy but can't afford?
- - 1 This person is not sure how to answer at first, but then gives quite a long, complete answer.
  - 2 This person gives lots of other information about themselves while they give reasons for their answer.
  - 3 This person gives other information about themselves as background before they answer a question.
  - 4 This person gives two alternative answers as well as a combined answer.
- 3 Work alone. Choose three questions from Exercise 1 and three strategies for answering them from Exercise 2. Then think how you will answer the questions you have chosen using the strategies.
  - When you are ready, work with a partner and take turns to ask and answer the questions you have chosen.
  - While you are listening to your partner, for each answer, decide which strategy they are using and how successfully they are able to use it.

4 Pronunciation: linking (1)

To speak fluently, speakers often:

- do not pronounce the last consonant of a word. In the example, many speakers would not pronounce the final 't' in but.
- link the last consonant of the word to the word which follows when it begins with a vowel. In the example below, many speakers would link the final 't' of didn't to answer so that the 't' sounds as if it begins the word answer.

1 09 Listen to these example sentences.

He understood but didn't answer. I like eating and talking. I don't often buy clothes and shoes.

- 2 10 Look at and listen to the answer to question 2 and notice how the speaker:
  - 1 does not pronounce the crossed-out letters
  - 2 joins the words indicated with _.

I think it really depends because girls and boys typically spend their money a bit differently. I guess girls spend more money on clothes and magazines, while boys spend more money on music and things like football matches. In general though, I think both boys and girls spend a lot of money just going out to places and having a good time.

- 3 When can we:
  - 1 not pronounce the final letter of a word?
  - 2 link a word to the following word?
- 4 Work in pairs. Take turns to read the answer in Exercise 2 aloud, sentence by sentence, in the same way.
- 5 11 Look at this answer to question 3 and:
  - underline the final consonants you think the speaker won't pronounce
  - mark with a _ the words you think the speaker will link. Then listen to check your answers.

Hmm, I'd have to think, because I'm not too keen on shopping, actually. Um, there is one shop I really enjoy going to. It's one of a chain of sports shops and what I really like about it is just to wander round and see all the clothes and equipment they sell. I see things for sports I don't do, but I'd like to try and that gives me the idea that one day I could try the sport, when I can afford the clothes and equipment I mean.

6 Write your own answer to one of the questions in Exercise 1 and cross out the final consonants you shouldn't pronounce and indicate the words you should link with a . Then work with a partner and take turns to read your answers.

- 5 12 Listen to Irene and Peter each answering the examiner's question below.
  - 1 Which strategy (1–4) from Exercise 2 do Irene and Peter use?
  - 2 Which answer do you prefer? Why?

What's shopping like in the area where you live?

6 Work in pairs. Look at the questions below and the words in the box. Which words could you use to help you answer the questions?

a bargain a brand competitive a consumer a counter a debit card to purchase the sales in stock / out of stock unavailable

- What is shopping like in the area where you live?
- Tell us about a shop you've visited recently. Why did you go there?
- Which shops in your area are the most attractive? Why?
- What's the best time of year to go shopping in your town?
- Tell us about something you really enjoyed buying.
- Do you prefer buying things in shops or online? Why?
- 7 Now take turns to ask and answer the questions.

Exam advice

- Practise by working in small groups, asking and answering questions about your personal life and interests. Make sure you choose topics that involve using a range of tenses.
- Don't go to the exam with memorised answers, as you will lose marks for not responding naturally. However, you can prepare by thinking about the vocabulary to describe your life, your studies or work, the neighbourhood where you live, etc.
- Look at the examiner while you're speaking and try to sound confident.

Writing | Part 2 A review

1 Look at this writing task and underline the key points you must deal with.

You see this announcement on your town's website for visitors.

We want visitors to our town to enjoy themselves. Is there a place in or near our town where people your age really like meeting up and having a good time? Write a review of the place, describing what type of place it is, what people can do there, how to find the place, and why you particularly recommend it.

Write your review.

2 Work in groups.

- If you're from the same town, discuss which place you can review and what information and ideas you can use to deal with the points you've underlined in Exercise 1.
- If you're from different towns, take turns to tell each other about the place in your town that you would review and recommend.

- 3 Work alone and write a plan for your review. Then compare your plan with a partner's.
- 4 Read Eva's answer and write notes to complete her plan below.

Cinecity

Cinecity is an entertainment complex just outside my town where thousands of young people go to meet their friends and have a good time on Saturdays and Sundays. Apart from a dozen cinemas screening the latest films, there are cafés, fast-food restaurants, a gym and a bowling alley.

The cinemas are popular and offer a range of films to suit all tastes, although I have the impression that most people prefer the other facilities, which give them the opportunity to talk and do activities together. In fact, you'll find the karaoke bar is one of the liveliest spots because, even if you've never done it before, you'll be encouraged to pick up the microphone and sing to a live audience.

Cinecity is several kilometres from the town centre, but don't worry if you don't have a car because it's still easy to get there by public transport. In fact, taking the underground is probably the best way to avoid the heavy traffic at weekends.

Cinecity is a great place for anyone under the age of 25 because it has such a variety of things to do that you are sure to have a great time. What is more, you can buy a ticket with a discount to several different activities, so you'll have lots to talk about afterwards.

You will get higher marks in the exam if you write longer, more complex sentences.

- 5 Study how Eva uses the highlighted words or phrases. Then join these sentences using the words in brackets and making any other changes which are necessary.

Reading and Use of English | Part 6

- 1 Work in groups. You will read an article about studying medicine. Before you read, discuss these questions.
  - What attracts young people to become doctors?
  - How do you think studying medicine might be different from studying other subjects at university?
- 2 Read the article carefully, ignoring the gaps. Note the subject of each paragraph in the margin as you read.

What's it like to study medicine?

Dr Fred Clough recounts his experience

How studying medicine is different Medicine isn't quite like other degrees. I spent the first three years studying and attending lectures on anatomy, cell biology and pathology (what happens when the body goes wrong). I found when I got to medical school that I was required to memorise far more than I had had to at secondary school and put in far longer hours, especially around exam time.

As well as the lessons and lectures, I had individual weekly classes with my tutor, who also gave me work to do. 1 These classes soon became a high point in my week. We used to spend the hour discussing such things as the properties of different medicines or the topic of an essay whose title was Doctors can learn more medicine from treating patients than from studying textbooks. Do you agree? 2

In my final year, I studied for an extra degree in Physiological Sciences. I was also able to pursue areas of interest, which in my case included neuroscience, and take supplementary modules in the history of medicine and pharmacology. Most universities now expect you to do some academic research as well. However, I felt incredibly lucky that I had the opportunity to work in laboratories where I rubbed shoulders with Nobel Prize winners. 3

As a clinical student, in other words as a student in a hospital, my timetable changed dramatically. I was expected to dress smartly, as I spent every day with patients as a functioning part of a medical team. 4 These included surgery, medicine, dermatology, neurology and many more.

I moved to a London hospital for my clinical training, and had some very memorable experiences, such as delivering my first baby and visiting a prison psychiatric ward. 5 I was permitted to walk into any ward or any operating theatre and observe, learn, ask questions and speak to patients, whereas practising doctors are all rushed off their feet. Students can often take time to really investigate a patient's condition more deeply, and may even be able to inform the doctors and nurses of some very important detail that has been overlooked and which might lead to the patient being misdiagnosed. 6 Everyone teaches each other at whatever level, and now I also help secondary-school students who are preparing entrance exams for the top medical schools.

Medicine is a very time-intensive degree. However, being thrown in at the deep end of some of the most challenging situations I have ever been in, and having to deal with patients from all areas of life, continues to inspire me and satisfy me on a daily basis.

Adapted from The Independent

3 Work in pairs. Six sentences have been removed from the article. Underline words which may refer to something in the article and discuss what they may refer to.

- C On average, four weeks was spent rotating around each of the different specialties across the three years.
- D The culture within medicine is that each team member's input is respected, and the team itself is hugely valued.
- E And although I was expected to work extremely hard, most of the work was enjoyable.
- F These well-known people would always be more than happy to answer questions in the corridor, or reply to an email that requested more information about their subject.

Speaking | Part 2

1 Complete the table below with these phrases for getting out of difficulties in the Speaking paper. (You can use them in any part of the paper.)

Phrases for getting out of difficulties

I'm not sure how to say it, but it's used for ...

I'm sorry, what I meant was ...

Let me think ...

When you need time to think	When you can't think of the word	When you've made a mistake

2 16 Work in pairs. Listen to Antonia doing Speaking Part 2 and then complete the checklist on the right.

How important is each activity for staying healthy?

The	candidate	yes	no
1	spoke for the complete minute or until the examiner said 'Thank you'
2	compared the photos and spent roughly equal time on each
3	answered the examiner's question clearly with his/her opinion
4	gave (a) reason(s) for his/her opinion
5	found ways of explaining things when he/she didn't know a word
6	corrected his/her mistakes
7	sounded interested and enthusiastic about what he/she was saying.

3 Work in pairs. Look at the examiner's follow-up question to different candidates and their answers. Then answer the questions below.

Examiner: Now, which activity would you prefer to do?

Miguel: I'd prefer to go cycling, because I'm not very good at cooking and I really enjoy making—
I mean doing physical exercise. I find cycling

I mean doing physical exercise. I find cycling in the city quite exciting, but if I can, I'd rather cycle in the country because it's less polluted.

Peter: Making salad is better because the other is dangerous.

Nikolai: Oh, I think cycling is very good for the health, even in the city, and also it's important to have a healthy diet because you know what they say: we are what we eat!

- 1 Who do you think gave the best answer: Miguel, Peter or Nikolai? Why?
- 2 Match what the examiner might be thinking with each candidate's answer:
- a 'Did he listen to my question? He isn't answering it at all!'
- b 'This is a good answer: two or three sentences, he corrects himself and he uses a variety of vocabulary.'
- c 'Too short! He hasn't used much language and he's not really answering the question!'

Exam advice

- If you can't think of a word, explain what the thing is used for or what it looks like.
- Try to use vocabulary relevant to the topic.
- If possible, avoid hesitating too often.

4 Pronunciation: intonation (3)

We tend to use more intonation on stressed words than on unstressed words.

1 D 17 Work in pairs. Look at this extract from Antonia's answer. Underline the words you think she stresses. Then listen to check your answers.

OK, so both photographs show people doing things which might be good for their sanity, sorry, I mean their health. In the first photo I can see someone who looks as if he's, um, what's the word, he's commuting by bicycle in busy traffic.

- 2 18 Listen to the extract with two different intonations.
  - In which version, a or b, does the speaker sound more certain and confident?
  - Does the voice rise or fall on the final stressed word in each sentence? What does this show?
- 3 Take turns to read the extract in Exercise 1 aloud. Your partner should say whether your intonation is more like version a or b.
- 4 19 Decide which words will be stressed in these two extracts. Then listen to check your answers.
  - a I'd say there are some problems with the idea of health in the first photo because of the danger from the traffic, especially because he's cycling in the night, I mean the dark, and the, um, I can't think of the word, but it's a type of smoke which comes from the cars.
  - b On the other hand, if you live in the city, it's a good way of getting exercise. In the second photo, the kids should remember that they need to eat a mixed, sorry, a balanced diet, not just salad and fruit.
- 5 Does the speaker sound more certain and more confident in extract a or b? Why? Take turns to read these extracts aloud.

- 5 20 Work in pairs.
  - Student A: Listen to the examiner's instructions and do the Speaking Part 2 task in Exercise 2.
  - Student B: Listen and complete the checklist in Exercise 2 for your partner. When your partner has finished, give feedback.
- 6 21 Now, Student B should listen to the examiner's follow-up question and answer it.
- 7 22 Work in pairs. Student B should listen to the examiner's instructions and do this task. Student A should complete the checklist in (Speaking) Exercise 2 and give feedback at the end.

Why is it important for these people to deal with their problems?

8 23 Now Student A should listen to the examiner's follow-up question and answer it.

1 Work in groups. Look at this discussion question. Discuss and note down at least three healthy or unhealthy aspects for each discussion point (a–e). When you have finished, change groups and report what your group decided.

Do you think modern lifestyles are healthy or not? Talk about:

- a the environment and health
- b diet
- c work activities
- d information, e.g. about exercise, diet
- e free-time activities.
- 2 Work in pairs. Read the writing task in the next column.
  - Underline the main ideas in the task.
  - Decide which points from your discussion you would include in your answer and write a plan.

In your English class, you have been talking about whether modern lifestyles are healthy or not.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all the notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

Modern lifestyles can seriously endanger our health. Do you agree?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. food
- 2. physical activity
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

Work in pairs. Discuss what the strong points and weak points of this essay are. Then say what comments you would write at the end if you were this student's teacher.

It seems strange that although we know a lot about how to live healthily, many people continue to do things which may be harmful to their health.

There are many parts of our lifestyles which enable us to live healthily. For instance, we all know about the importance of eating a balanced diet and taking regular exercise. Moreover, in rich countries we have easy access to good-quality fresh food and suitable sports facilities, so it should be easy to adopt healthy living habits.

However, there are things which prevent people from having a healthy lifestyle. For example, industry and traffic have led to serious environmental pollution. What is more, we spend a lot of time sitting down, and this often means we have less time for activities which keep us fit. For example, there are many people who spend many hours sitting in front of computers working, studying, or playing computer games. In addition, many people do not eat the right sort of food.

- 4 Work in pairs. Read these concluding paragraphs and decide which one is most suitable for the essay in Exercise 3. Why?
  - 1 All in all, I believe that we have to find ways of living which are as healthy as possible. Also, I think people should try to drive more carefully.
  - 2 In conclusion, I would agree with the statement because although we have plenty of opportunities to follow a healthy lifestyle, in practice we often choose a less healthy alternative.
  - 3 To summarise, modern lifestyles have good and bad aspects, but the lifestyle we choose depends on us. However, often our health depends on factors which we cannot control.
- 5 Match each of these teacher's comments (a–c) to one of the concluding paragraphs in Exercise 4.
  - a A good brief final paragraph where your opinion is clearly stated and you summarise the main arguments of your essay.
  - b This concluding paragraph doesn't seem to sum up the arguments you expressed in the main part of the essay, but it sums up other arguments. What a pity, because it's well written!
  - c You're giving an opinion which is not exactly connected with the essay question. Also, your final sentence introduces a new argument which hasn't been dealt with in the main part of the essay, so it's not really a conclusion.
- 6 If you're not sure how to begin a paragraph, you can begin with a sentence which:
  - says what the paragraph will contain
  - relates the paragraph to the previous paragraph.

Look at the opening sentences (a and b) from the sample answer in Exercise 3.

- 1 What will each paragraph contain?
- 2 Which word relates one of the paragraphs to the previous paragraph?
- a There are many parts of our lifestyles which enable us to live healthily.
- b However, there are things which prevent people from having a healthy lifestyle.

- 7 Write opening sentences for paragraphs which will contain:
  - 1 three advantages of living in the country
  - 2 some disadvantages of living in the country
  - 3 reasons exercise is important
  - 4 dangers of taking too much exercise.
- 8 Work in groups. Discuss whether you agree or disagree with the essay question in Exercise 9. You can talk about:
  - diet
  - sport and exercise
  - · free-time activities.
- 9 Do this writing task. Write between 140 and 190 words. Before you write, make a plan. When you write, you can use the essay in Exercise 3 as a model.

In your English class, you have been talking about how interested young people are in health and fitness.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all the notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

Young people generally don't pay enough attention to their health and fitness. Do you agree?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. physical exercise
- 2. other habits which affect health
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

Exam advice

- Your concluding paragraph should summarise your opinion and the reasons for it.
- Don't include new arguments or ideas in your final sentence because you won't be able to support them with reasons or examples.
- Be careful not to spend too long on Part 1, or you won't have time to do Part 2 well.

Starting off

Work in pairs.

Imagine you are planning an article for your college magazine on the importance of animals in our lives. First, discuss what role each animal in the photos plays in our lives and how these roles benefit people.

Then decide which two photos would be best for the magazine article.

Surviving an animal attack

No matter how well prepared you are as a traveller, animals can still attack you. Our advice? Keep your distance!

A Colin Bristow

I was working as a safari guide in Botswana with four American clients. There was a sudden movement to my left, and a charging elephant crashed through some small trees less than 20 feet away. I always brief my clients that you should never take your eyes off a dangerous animal or show signs of fear or panic. I turned to face it and was immediately knocked over by one of the clients screaming 'run, run' at the top of his voice. I landed on my back between the exposed roots of a large acacia tree. My backpack tangled with one of the roots so that I couldn't move. The elephant was kneeling over me smashing his thick trunk into the roots on either side of my body. Elephants have poor eyesight and this may have been what saved me. I managed to free myself from my backpack and I ran for my life hardly daring to believe that the elephant wasn't chasing me.

B Chris Haslam

I was camping on a beach in Mexico. It was sunset and I was walking along the coast looking for firewood when I noticed a dead cactus which was perfect for the fire. I bent to lift it and perhaps because of the fading light, failed to notice the danger. I felt the slightest prick against my middle finger, which I thought I'd brushed against a cactus spine. It was a scorpion. The pain was intense and sudden. By the time I arrived back at camp, my lips were numb and I was shaking. In the absence of qualified medical opinion, my companions carried on with their game of cards.

The next morning, I showed the sting to a local.

'Did you play cards with the others last night?'

'Course not,' I replied. 'I was too ill.'

He raised his eyebrows. 'Too bad. Scorpion stings are very lucky, muchacho.'

C Baz Roberts

On our penultimate night on the Arctic ice as we were returning from the Pole, I was just falling asleep when Paul's voice woke me: 'Guys, there's a bear in the camp. I'm serious!' I leant forward on my knees to unzip the tent door. Directly in front was a polar bear about ten metres away. It heard the sound of my tent zip and turned to face me, all 600 kilos or so of him.

Due to melting ice, the polar bear's habitat is under threat and may one day disappear. As an intruder in their fragile world, I wanted to avoid causing it any harm. I started screaming and waving my arms. When he got about one metre away, I threw a large jar of coffee powder into the bear's face. If he hadn't turned and walked off at that moment, we wouldn't have survived.

D Zebedee Ellis (aged six)

I was at a zoo and dinosaur park with Mummy and Daddy two years ago. I had eaten about 400 tons of ice cream and now I wanted to see more animals. In a large open area next to a pond, daddy saw some big fat pelicans, all full of fish. 'There you are!' he said. 'Some animals for you to annoy.'

I was very pleased and danced up and down in front of them.

Then one big pelican tried to eat my T-shirt. I think it went for me because I was moving around so much and that made it nervous, but I really wish it had made some kind of scratch on my skin to show my friends.

- 3 Work in pairs. Do the speaking task in Exercise 2, but take turns playing the role of a very talkative student and a student who wants to interrupt.
- 4 27 Now listen to the examiner and do the second part of Speaking Part 3.

- 5 28 Part 4 questions are on topics related to Part 3. Listen to Irene answering two Part 4 questions.
  - 1 Which of these strategies does she use?
    - a She just gives her opinion.
    - b She expresses a range of ideas, but doesn't say which she agrees with.
    - c She summarises other people's opinions, then gives her own.
  - 2 Complete the table below by writing these phrases from Irene's answer in the correct column.

I'm not sure that I agree People often suggest that Some people say that That's a difficult question Lthink that's true That's quite interesting comment on the question	ntroduce other people's opinions	say whether you agree or disagree with the other

		I think that's true

- 3 Work in pairs. Think of two more phrases you can add to each column of the table.
- 6 Pronunciation: word stress (3)

We sometimes pronounce individual words differently, depending on whether we stress them or not.

1 29 Listen to these phrases from Irene's answers again and underline the highlighted words which are stressed.

That's a difficult question. Some people say that it's cruel to keep animals in zoos where they don't have the freedom that they'd have in their natural habitat.

They say that animals get stressed and can't relax, but I'm not sure that I agree. I think they can. If animals have some space, they can have a nice relaxed life in a zoo.

That's quite interesting. People often suggest that children learn to be responsible because they have to look after the animal.

I think that's true and also, from my experience, I think that it's an extra relationship which develops children's ability to love and care about the animals and the people around them.

- 2 Listen again and notice how the pronunciation of the highlighted words changes depending on whether they are stressed or not.
- 3 Work in pairs. Take turns to read the sentences in Exercise 1 aloud.
- 4 30 Listen to each of these sentences being read twice, once with the highlighted words stressed and once with the highlighted words unstressed. Then work in pairs and take turns to read both versions of the sentences aloud.
  - a Looking after animals takes time and money.
  - b He was very tired, I admit.
  - c Where were you yesterday?
  - d Dogs can be very noisy.
- 7 Work in pairs and take turns to ask and answer these Part 4 questions.

- 1 What pet do you think is most suitable for young children? Why?
- 2 How can children benefit from having an animal to look after?
- 3 Which is better: to live in the country or to live in a large town? (Why?)
- 4 Why is it important to protect animals and other wildlife?
- 5 Do you think animals should be kept in zoos? (Why? / Why not?)

Exam advice

- Answer the questions in Speaking Part 4 with your opinion backed up with an example from your own experience if possible.
- Be prepared to discuss with your partner you will gain marks if you have a conversation rather than just speaking one at a time.

- Start in a friendly way with a phrase like It's good to hear from you or I'm glad you're thinking of coming, etc.
- Finish with something friendly like I hope you enjoy yourself or Looking forward to seeing you.

Dear Les,

I'm very glad to hear that you're thinking of visiting my country this summer. You can see beautiful countryside and scenery all over the country, although it varies a lot, depending on the region.

If you want somewhere that's not usually too hot in summer, I'd advise you to go to Asturias, in the north of Spain. It's a region which has some fantastic mountains as well as green countryside and beautiful rivers. You should visit the 'Picos de Europa', which are really spectacular mountains and canyons. All the paths are clearly marked, which makes walking quite safe, and you're sure to see a lot of wildlife while you're there. You may even see bears and wolves if you're lucky!

If I were you, I'd hire a car to get around. The best idea would be to hire it online before you leave home. Make sure that you take warm clothes and a raincoat as we can have heavy rain, even in summer.

I hope you enjoy your holiday and have good weather! Best wishes,

Manolo

- 2 Before doing Reading and Use of English Part 5, answer the questions in the Exam round-up box.

Exam round-up

How much do you remember about Reading and Use of English Part 5? Circle the correct option in italics in each of these sentences.

In Reading and Use of English Part 5:

- 1 there are six / eight questions; you must choose the best option: A, B, C or D.
- 2 you should read the text quickly before reading the questions / the questions quickly before reading the text.
- 3 you should read the options before / after reading the section of text where a question is answered.
- 3 Read the extract quite quickly to find out why the writer thinks the house is in a good location.

Uncle Leo gives me a suspicious look when I call this place the 'Scacchi Palace'. It is really a house, called Ca'Scacchi in Venetian. Anywhere else in the world, this would surely be regarded as a palace, although it is one in need of a little care and attention.

Our house is by the side of the little San Cassian canal and a small square of the same name. We have a door which leads onto the street and two entrances from the water. One runs under a grand, rounded arch into the ground floor of the house, which, as is customary in the city, is used instead of a cellar for storing things.

10 The second is used for our commercial activities and it is situated in another building, which is three storeys high, attached to the north side, towards the Grand Canal.

Finally, there is yet another exit: a wooden bridge, with handrails, runs from the first floor of the house between the two river entrances straight over the canal and into the square itself. Consequently I can wander over it in the morning and find fresh water from the well in the centre of the square while still rubbing the sleep from my eyes. Or I may call a gondola from my bedroom window, find it waiting for me by the time I get downstairs and, just one minute later, be in the middle of the greatest waterway on Earth: the Grand Canal of Venice.

The house is almost 200 years old, I am told, and built of bricks of a rich dark brown colour. It has elegant arched windows and green-painted shutters to keep out the cruel summer heat. I live on the third floor in the third room on the right with a view over the canal and the square. When I lie in bed at night, I can hear the chatter and songs of the passing gondoliers and the conversations in the square nearby. I understand why Uncle runs his business here. The prices are not too steep. The location of the house is near the city centre and easy for our clients to find. Furthermore, the printing trade has many roots in this area of Venice, even if some of the old publishers from the area no longer exist.

Oh sister! I long for the day when I can show you these things instead of struggling to describe them in a letter which may take a long time to reach you in Spain! Venice is like a vast imitation of our old library at home, full of dark corners and unexpected surprises, some very close to me. Last night, while searching in the jumbled corners of the warehouse cellar, I found a single copy of Aristotle's Poetics, published in the city in 1502. I raced to Uncle Leo with my discovery and – now here's a victory – a smile almost appeared on his face. 'A find, boy! This'll fetch good money when I sell it down in the market.'

'May I read a little first, sir?' I asked, and felt some anxiety when I made the request. Leo has a frightening manner at times.

'Books are for selling, not reading,' he replied immediately. But at least I had it for the night, since the dealers were by that time closed.

Reading and Use of English | Part 6

1 Answer the questions in the Exam round-up box.

Exam round-up

How much do you remember about Reading and Use of English Part 6?

Say whether the following statements are true (T) or false (F). If a statement is false, correct it.

- 1 This part of the exam will contain eight questions, including the example.
- 2 You should first read the whole text carefully to form an idea of how it develops.
- 3 Underline clues in the text while you read such as pronouns (e.g. this, he, etc.), adverbs which suggest something mentioned before (e.g. the second point, however, etc.), relationships of meaning, (e.g. it was expected to be huge ... in fact it was tiny ..., etc.).
- 4 Read each sentence carefully, thinking about where it could fit and looking for clues.
- 5 When you've finished, quickly go to the next part of the paper.

- 2 Work in groups. You will read an article about a Peruvian festival. Before you read, look at the festival in the photos.
  - What do you think is happening?
  - Would you enjoy a festival like this? Why? / Why not?
- 3 Six sentences have been removed from the article. Read the article (but not the missing sentences) quite carefully. As you read:
  - think about and perhaps quickly note down the subject of each paragraph.
  - underline any words and phrases before and after the gaps which may refer to the missing sentences (one has been done for you as an example).

We chose a spot between two icy streams to put up our tent. While thus occupied, one of the many women dressed in the traditional costume of a wide-brimmed hat, woolly jacket, skirt and stockings came to sell us some very welcome hot soup and fish. 3

Not far away in another open market, people were buying tiny houses, cars or small pictures showing a baby or a wedding. Marco explained that these represented something the pilgrims desired. 4 This, they believed, would ensure that what they wished for would come true in the year ahead.

After dining in a makeshift restaurant and sampling the dancing and partying, we went to bed fully clothed inside our sleeping bags.

The ukukus, men wearing black masks and costumes, had left the encampment in the early hours to climb the nearest mountain by the light of the full moon.

In the dawn light, we watched them winding their way back down like a great black serpent. As they descended, they were joined by groups of dancers in bright traditional costumes. They performed wherever there was a space. Although there did not seem to be anyone organising them or any timetable, the whole festival had become a huge harmonious celebration.

The world's highest festival?

It felt as if we had been climbing for hours. I stopped to catch my breath as a wave of dizziness swept over me in the thin mountain air. I stood to one side of the path to let the mass of travellers with us pass. I was trekking with Marco, my guide to experience the festival of Qoyllur Rit'i which takes place at 4,300 metres in the southern Andes of Peru, a festival which few foreign tourists see.

As I looked back down the trail we had climbed and up towards where we had to go, I marvelled at the colourful sight. Entire families wearing local costumes were travelling to this unique festival from all over Peru. Among them there were old men, mothers with small babies and children all following the same route. Many of them had horses and donkeys to carry their food, blankets, cooking pots and tents. 1 Others had made their way on foot through the mountains for days to attend this remarkable event.

We continued our upward ascent for another hour and a half before reaching the Sinakara valley. There we looked down on a flat plain of open grassland crossed with streams from the glaciers and overlooked by snow-topped mountain peaks. Right across this flat piece of ground people were putting up shelters and tents of blue plastic to protect themselves from the freezing mist and rain.

The air of excitement, even from our vantage point more than a mile away, was palpable.

Where the writer was going

- 4 Now choose from the sentences A–G the one which fits each gap (1–6) in the text. There is one extra sentence which you do not need to use. As you do this,
  - think about how the sentence matches the subject of the paragraph
  - underline words in the sentences which refer to things in the paragraph.
- A From time to time during the procession, they stopped to dance on the glaciers, believing this would bring luck to their villages for the year to come.
- B We were up early the next morning, the main day of the festival, despite having slept badly on the frozen ground.
- C It was clear, however, from the sound of drums and singing rising from this improvised camp that the weather was not going to dampen the festival spirit.
- D But just as the celebrations were reaching their climax, it began to rain and everyone ran for shelter.
- E Others, meanwhile, were offering goods for purchase such as warm clothes, food, torches and trinkets by spreading them on blankets on the ground.
- F Some, like me, had come by bus to Mahuayani, the nearest town, and were walking up from there.
- G They would take them and bury them in the mountain.
- 5 Quickly read the article again with your answers to check that it makes sense.
- 6 Work in pairs.
  - Would you be interested in visiting this festival?Why? / Why not?
  - Do you think festivals in your country are more for tourists or more for local people?

Writing | Part 1 An essay

1 Before doing Writing Part 1, answer the questions in the Exam round-up box.

Exam round-up

How much do you remember about Writing Part 1? Choose the best option in italics in these sentences.

In Writing Part 1:

- 1 you must write an essay of between 120–180 words / 140—190 words in 40 / 60 minutes.
- 2 you can write whatever you want / must deal with three points, one of which is your own idea.
- 3 you should write a plan first / just start writing your answer.
- 4 you should check your answer carefully when you finish / you won't have time to check your answer.
- 2 Work in pairs. Read the writing task below.
  - Underline the key points in the task.
  - Make a list of the advantages and disadvantages of going to music festivals and concerts to listen to live music instead of listening to recorded music.
  - Discuss: Which do you prefer? Why?

In your English class, you have been talking about the advantages and disadvantages of going to music festivals and concerts to listen to live music instead of recorded music.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all your notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

Is it better to listen to live music or recorded music?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. quality
- 2. convenience
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

3 Decide which of the ideas you discussed you can use in this essay and write a brief plan.

When you have finished, work in pairs and compare your plans.

- 4 Read Ulli's essay and answer these questions.
  - 1 Which of her ideas are the same as yours?
  - 2 Which is her own idea?
  - 3 Do you agree with her opinion?

Although people can listen to recorded music on their music players when they<sup>1</sup> are travelling working or studying music festivals and concerts are becoming more and more popular. This<sup>2</sup> is because I believe they<sup>3</sup> offer two main advantages.

The first advantage is that the quality of the sound is much better at live concerts where the music and voices come directly from the performers. This a makes it a much more emotional experience because you have direct contact with the musicians and you react to them and they react to you.

The second advantage is the atmosphere. Instead of listening to a recording alone on your personal music player you are listening with a huge crowd of people and enjoying the music together. This means it is a social as well as an artistic experience.

The main disadvantage is that you cannot listen to live music whenever you want like you can on a personal device. Apart from that<sup>8</sup>, the noise from the audience sometimes spoils the quality of the sound.

In my opinion however the best way to enjoy music is the spontaneous atmosphere of a live concert. It is more exciting because you are surrounded by other enthusiastic fans who are dancing with you.

- 5 Candidates often make mistakes with punctuation. Ulli's answer in Exercise 4 is missing ten commas. Punctuate it correctly by placing the ten commas.
- page 177 Language reference: Using commas
- 6 Work in pairs. Ulli connects her ideas by using words which refer to other parts of her essay. What does each of the underlined words in her essay refer to? 1'they' refers to people.

- 7 Candidates often make mistakes with it, this, that and they when referring to other parts of their writing. Complete these sentences by writing it, this, that or they in the gaps. In some cases, more than one answer may be possible.
  - 1 In my opinion, going to live concerts is better.
    ......gives you the chance to really connect with the band.
  - 2 Listening to live music is better, but on the other hand ......is more expensive.
  - 3 A further disadvantage is that when young people want to go to a concert, ...... cannot always afford the ticket price.
  - 4 During the tour, the band performed in Paris and Berlin, but .......had played in Amsterdam before
  - 5 The band's tour had various problems: the bus broke down and some of their equipment was stolen. On top of all ....., there was a storm on the night of the concert.

  - 7 The sound quality of the recording is not very good, and in addition to ......, it is quite expensive.
  - 8 I am not very keen on being in large crowds. In spite of ......, I would never miss a concert by my favourite band.

  - He's eating what looks like a hamburger.

This swimming pool is fantastic – the artificial waves mean it's like swimming in the sea.

to mean 'for example':
 He enjoys all sorts of adventure sports like paragliding, windsurfing and canoeing.

Causative have and get

We use have/get + something + done (cleaned / fixed / made, etc.) when we ask someone else to do something for us:

I've just had my bike mended. (i.e. Someone has mended my bike for me.)

- get is less formal than have:
   My dad has just got some new furniture delivered.
- It's not usually necessary to say who did it for us, but it is possible:
  - I'm going to have my hair dyed blonde this afternoon by my sister. (i.e. My sister is going to dye my hair for me.)
- have/get + something + done can be used in any tense or form:
  - I'm going to get my suit dry-cleaned for the wedding.
- We can also use this structure to say we have been the victim of something:

Tim had his wallet stolen while he was waiting for the bus.

Conditionals

Conditional sentences express a condition (If ...) and the consequence of the condition. The consequence can be expressed before or after the condition:

If you come to Canada, we can visit Vancouver. We can visit Vancouver if you come to Canada.

Note: If the condition comes first, a comma is used. If the consequence comes first, no comma is used.

Zero conditional

We use a zero conditional to express:

- things which are always or generally true:
   If the teacher is late, it sets a bad example to the class.
   People tend to get annoyed if/when you shout at them.
- scientific facts:
   When/If water boils, it evaporates.

Note: In zero conditionals, when and if often mean the same.

First conditional

We use a first conditional to express a future condition we think is possible or likely:

If I get the job, I'll buy myself a new car.

If you wash the car, it will look much smarter.

I won't phone you unless it's urgent.

You can have an ice cream if you behave well.

You shouldn't go swimming unless you think it's safe.

If he phones, tell him I'm busy.

Note: unless means 'except if'. We can often use unless instead of if not:

I can't watch the football with you unless I finish my school work beforehand. (I can't watch the football with you if I don't finish my school work before the game begins.)

Second conditional

We use a second conditional to express a present or future condition which is imaginary, contrary to the facts, impossible or improbable:

I would go for a walk if it wasn't so cold.

If I was as rich as Bill Gates, I wouldn't work. (Being as rich as Bill Gates is imaginary.)

I wouldn't fly in a helicopter unless I was sure it was completely safe. (This is how I would feel in this situation.) We'd win more matches if we trained harder. (This is contrary to the facts – we don't train hard enough.)

Third conditional

We use a third conditional to talk about:

- something which did not happen in the past and
- its results, which are imaginary.

If you had gone to the concert, you would have enjoyed it. If you had phoned me this morning, I would not have been late for school.

If I had lived in the 19th century, I would have gone to school by horse. (If I had lived in the 19th century (something which did not happen - I am alive now), I would have gone to school by horse (an imaginary consequence because I didn't live in the 19th century).)

If he hadn't reacted guickly, the hippo would have killed him. (He reacted quickly, so the hippo didn't kill him.)

Note: We can contract the third conditional as follows: If I'd lived in the 19th century, I'd have gone to school by horse. If he hadn't been in such a hurry, he wouldn't have had an accident.

We can use could and might instead of would:

If our team had played harder, they could have won the match. (They had the ability to win the match, but they didn't, because they didn't play hard enough.) If our team had played harder, they would have won the match. (They were sure to win, but they didn't because they didn't play hard enough.)

If the weather had been better, we might have gone swimming. (Swimming was a possibility.) If the weather had been better, we would have gone swimming. (Swimming was a certainty.)

Mixed conditionals

When we want to use a conditional sentence to talk about both the past and the present, we can use second conditional in one part of the sentence and third conditional in the other:

If tickets weren't so expensive I'd have gone to the cinema last night.

 The tickets are expensive and that is why the speaker didn't go to the cinema.

If Mar hadn't fallen off her bike, she'd be champion now. 2nd conditional (present time)

Mar fell off her bike and that is why she isn't champion.

Note: You cannot use zero or first conditionals in mixed conditionals.

Countable and uncountable nouns

Nouns can be either countable [C] or uncountable [U]. However, some nouns can be both countable [C] and uncountable [U], but with a difference in meaning: They say it's healthy to drink tea. (tea in general, uncountable)

Would you like a tea? (a cup of tea, countable) Living in a large house is a lot of work. (work in general, uncountable)

That picture is a work of art. (a particular work, countable)

The grammar for countable nouns is different from the grammar for uncountable nouns.

countable nouns uncountable nouns use a or an in the do not use a or an cannot be made plural: singular: a job, an animal work, music • can be made plural: • use verbs in the singular: cars, books The news is good, Music • use some and any in the helps me relax. plural: some friends, • use some and any in the singular: some food, any anv answers advice • use few and many in • use little and much in the the plural: few students, many years singular: little information, much homework • use other words to refer to a quantity: a piece of advice, a small amount of money

O Some common uncountable nouns in English accommodation advice behaviour countryside damage equipment experience food furniture homework housework information knowledge luggage media music news paper pollution research scenery smoke software stuff transport work

Infinitive and verb + -ing forms

Infinitive

We use the infinitive:

- to say why we do something:
   I've just gone running to get some exercise.
   He's taken up tennis to make friends.
- to say why something exists:
   There's an example to help you.
- after too and enough:
   It's too cold to go swimming today.
   He isn't good enough to make the national team.
- We use the infinitive in the following verb patterns:

verb + to infinitive	agree appear bother decide demand fail hope learn manage offer plan refuse seem be supposed threaten	She agreed to meet him after work.
verb + (somebody/ something) + to infinitive	ask choose expect help intend promise want	She expected to win the race. I expect you to play in the match.
verb + somebody/ something + to infinitive	advise allow enable encourage forbid force invite order permit persuade recommend remind teach tell warn	The money enabled him to go to university.

• We use these verbs from the lists above to report speech:

advise agree allow ask decide encourage forbid invite offer order permit persuade promise recommend refuse remind tell threaten warn

Verb + -ing

We use a verb + -ing:

after prepositions:
 He's made a lot of friends by joining the tennis club.
 We watched a film about climbing in the mountains.

Note: We also use a verb + -ing after to when to is a preposition:

I'm looking forward to going on holiday. She's used to studying everything in English.

as subjects or objects of a sentence:
 Climbing is safer than it looks.
 He decided to take up running.

We use a verb + -ing after these verbs:

admit appreciate avoid celebrate consider delay deny dislike enjoy finish imagine involve keep mind miss postpone practise regret risk stop suggest

I really enjoyed winning that match. She suggested playing a game of squash after school.

We can use these verbs from the list above in reported speech:

admit deny regret suggest

See page 174: Reported speech – reporting verbs

We use a verb + -ing after these expressions:

it's no good it's not worth it's no use it's a waste of time can't stand can't bear can't help

It's not worth joining that sports club.

It's a waste of time entering the competition unless you're really fit.

I can't bear watching my team when they play badly.

Verbs followed by either an infinitive or a verb + -ing with almost the same meaning:

love begin continue hate prefer like start

I love playing tennis. I love to play tennis.
It continued raining all day. It continued to rain all day.

Note: When love, hate, prefer and like are used with would, they are always followed by the infinitive: I wouldn't like to do an adventure race. I'd prefer to watch it on television.

Verbs followed by either an infinitive or a verb + -ing with a difference in meaning

	verb + infinitive	verb + -ing
remember	Did you remember to bring your running shoes? (an action you have to do)	I remember feeling very tired at the end of the race. (a memory of something in the past) forget	Don't forget to bring your tennis racket. (an action you have to do)	I'll never forget winning my first tennis championship. (a memory of something in the past) regret	I regret to tell you the race has been cancelled. (regret + to say / to tell / to inform means 'I'm sorry to give you this information'.)	I regret not training harder before the race. (I'm sorry I didn't do this.)
try	I'm running every day because I'm trying to get fit. (My objective is to get fit.)	If you want to get fit, why don't you try swimming? (Swimming is a method to reach your objective.)
mean	Mario means to win the championship. (This is his intention.)	I wanted to be a swimming champion, but it meant going to the pool every day at 5.30. (it involved)
stop	Halfway through the marathon, he stopped to drink some water. (in order to drink some water)	When he realised he couldn't win, he stopped running. (He didn't continue.)

Note: The form forget + verb + -ing is unusual. It is more normal to use (not) remember:

I forget riding a bike the first time. I don't remember riding a bike the first time.

Linking words and phrases: when, if, in case, even if and even though

We use when to talk about:

- a situation:
  - I feel very uncomfortable when the weather is so hot.
- something we know will happen at some point in time: I'm writing an essay at the moment. When I finish, I'll phone you back.

We use if to describe:

- something we are not sure will happen: We'll miss the beginning of the film if the bus is late.
- Compare:

If I get a place at university, my parents will buy me a new car. (I'm not sure if I'll get a place at university.)

When I get a place at university, my parents will buy me a new car. (I'm confident I'll get a place at university.)

We use in case with the:

- present tense to talk about something which might happen in the future:
  - I'll take a book to read in case I have to wait a long time for the train.
  - Take a bottle of water with you in case you get thirsty.
- past simple to explain why someone did something: Clara turned off her mobile phone in case it rang during the exam. (She thought it might ring during the exam, so she turned it off.)

in case and if are different. Compare:

- I'll take my swimming costume in case we go to the beach.
  (I'll take it now because we might go to the beach later.)
- I'll take my swimming costume if we go to the beach.
   (I won't take my swimming costume now, because I don't know if we'll go to the beach we might not go.)

We use even though as a stronger way of saying although when we are certain about something:

- He bought a new computer, even though his old one was working perfectly. (The speaker is certain the old one was working perfectly.)
- I'm really looking forward to my holiday, even though the weather forecast is for rain. (The speaker knows the weather forecast is for rain.)

We use even if as a stronger way of saying if, when we are not certain about something:

- I'm going to have a holiday in the USA this summer even if I fail all my exams. (I'm not sure if I'm going to fail my exams but I'm going to have the holiday anyway.)
- I'll come to your party even if I have to walk there.
   (I don't know if I'll have to walk there, but I'll make sure I come to your party.)

Linking words for contrast

We use these linking words to show contrast:

although even though while whereas but however despite in spite of on the one hand, ... (on the other hand,)

although, even though, while and whereas

- We use although, even though, while and whereas to put two contrasting ideas in one sentence:
   I didn't buy the dress although I thought it was beautiful.
- They can be placed at the beginning of the sentence or in the middle, between the two contrasting ideas:
   It was late. She decided to phone him. → Although it was late, she decided to phone him. OR She decided to phone him although it was late.
- When the sentence begins with although, even though, while or whereas, we separate the two parts with a comma. When these words are placed in the middle, the comma is optional:
  - Berlin is a noisy city. My home village is quite peaceful. While Berlin is a noisy city, my home village is quite peaceful. OR Berlin is a noisy city whereas my home village is quite peaceful.
- even though is stronger than although:
   I didn't buy the car, even though I had the money ready in my pocket.

but

- but can be used to join two sentences. In this case, it is used in the middle of the sentence and it often follows a comma:
  - We warned her, but she didn't pay any attention.
- but can sometimes be used at the beginning of a new sentence:
  - He likes romantic films. But don't tell anybody!

however

- however normally starts a new sentence and refers to the sentence before.
- It is usually followed by a comma:
   He decided to go out to the cinema. However, he didn't tell his family where he was going.

despite and in spite of

- despite and in spite of mean 'without taking any notice of or being influenced by'; 'not prevented by':
   He got into the basketball team despite being quite short
  - She went swimming in spite of the cold weather.
- They can be placed at the beginning of the sentence or in the middle. They are followed by a noun or a verb + -ing.
- When used at the beginning of a sentence, a comma is also used to separate the two parts of the sentence:
   Despite working all day, Teresa didn't feel at all tired.
   We got to school on time in spite of the heavy traffic.

on the one hand, ... (on the other hand,)

- on the one hand ... (on the other hand) normally start new sentences and can be used to balance two contrasting ideas or points of view:
  - I'm not sure whether to go to the seaside for my holidays this year. On the one hand, most of my friends are going. On the other hand, it's time to have a change and go somewhere different.
- on the other hand can be used to introduce a contrasting idea even if you haven't used on the one hand:
   Doing sport can be a great way to relax. On the other hand, it can cause quite serious injuries.

look, seem and appear

We use these verbs to express our impressions of something or someone:

I haven't talked to him very much, but he seems very intelligent.

You still look tired, even if you have slept all night.

We use these with the following patterns:

The deed three three tenerthing patterns.
look/seem/appear + adjective	She looks very old. He seems hungry. Marga appeared tired.
subject + look + as if + sentence	The car looks as if it needs washing. You look as if you've had a bad day.
it looks/seems/ appears + as if + sentence	It looks as if the car needs washing. It seems as if you've had a bad day.
seem/appear + infinitive	The weather seems to have changed . She appeared to be crying .
look/seem + like + noun	He looks like my uncle. It may seem like an impossible task, but it isn't really.

Making comparisons

Comparative and superlative forms of adjectives and adverbs comparative forms	adjective/adverb + -er + than more + adjective/ adverb + than	Tennis is cheaper than golf. Marina works harder than before. Golf is more expensive than tennis. It rains more often than in the past.

superlative forms	the + adjective/ adverb + -est the most + adjective/adverb	Chess is one of the cheapest hobbies. Playing team sports is the most sociable free-time activity.

Comparison of adjectives

Add -er and -est with:	<ul> <li>one-syllable adjectives: Fiona is fitter than last year.</li> <li>two-syllable adjectives ending in -y and -ly, e.g. happy, friendly: My brother's the friendliest person in my family.</li> </ul>
Use more and most with:	<ul> <li>adjectives of two syllables or more (except two-syllable adjectives ending in -y and -ly):</li> <li>Biking is the most dangerous activity.</li> </ul>

See also page 176: Spelling

These form irregular comparisons:

good - better - best bad - worse - worst well - better - best badly - worse - worst much – more – most many - more - most little – less – least far – farther/further – farthest/furthest

To say two things are the same, use as + adjective + as: She finds doing aerobics as interesting as playing team sports (this means 'She finds doing aerobics and playing team sports equally interesting').

To say that one thing is less than another, use:

- not so/as + adjective + as: Window shopping is not so/as enjoyable as clubbing.
- less/least + adjective: Playing chess is less healthy than playing team sports. Clubbing is the least healthy activity you can do.

Comparison of adverbs

Add -er and -est with:	one-syllable adverbs, e.g. hard, fast, straight:     My mum works harder than my dad.
Use more and most with:	<ul> <li>two-syllable adverbs including adverbs ending in -ly:</li> <li>Maria read the text more quickly than Susanna.</li> <li>She visits me more often than in the past.</li> </ul>

These adverbs form irregular comparisons:

well - better - best badly - worse - worst

To say two things are the same, use as + adverb + as: Julia finished the exercise as quickly as Mark. (Julia and Mark finished the exercise equally quickly.)

To say that we do one thing differently from another, use:

 not so/as + adverb + as: Sophie doesn't speak Spanish so/as well as Gordon.

We can use words and phrases with comparative forms to express large and small differences. These are some ways of expressing a large difference:

- much / far / a lot / considerably + adjective/adverb + -er/ more + adjective/adverb: Playing team sports is much riskier than many people imagine.
- not nearly as + adjective/adverb + as: Some mobile apps are not nearly as difficult to use as normal computer programs.

These are some ways of expressing a small difference:

- slightly / a bit / a little + adjective/adverb + -er/more + adjective/adverb:
  - People drive slightly slower than they did in the past.
- not quite as + adjective/adverb + as: I don't find running quite as enjoyable as cycling.

Modal verbs

We use modal verbs to express the speaker's view of ability, certainty and possibility, obligation, prohibition and permission.

- These modal verbs are always followed by the infinitive without to:
  - can, could, may, might, must, shall, should, will, would
- These modal verbs are always followed by the infinitive with to: have to, ought to

Note: Modal verbs always have the same form, i.e. no 's' in the third person singular (He can come) or -ed in the past (except for have to, which changes in the same way as have).

Expressing ability

To say someone has an ability, we use can, can't, could, couldn't and be able to.

In the present, we use:

- can or am/is/are able to to express ability
- can't or am not/isn't/aren't able to for things which are not possible.

Liz can speak five languages, but she can't speak Russian. The doctor's able to see you now, but she isn't able to see you tomorrow.

Note: We usually use can and can't when speaking because they are shorter and less formal than able to.

In the past, we use:

- could only when speaking in general:
   When I was a child, I could read without glasses.
- was/were able to when speaking about something someone succeeded in doing on one particular occasion: Dad didn't have any money on him, but fortunately he was able to use his credit card to pay the bill. (not Hecould use his credit card to pay the bill.)
- couldn't and wasn't/weren't able to when speaking in general and also when speaking about one particular occasion:

Pascual wasn't able to / couldn't do all the questions in the maths exam.

Olga couldn't / wasn't able to ride a bike till she was 18.

When talking about ability, we use can only in the present and could only in the past. For perfect and future tenses, we use able to:

I've been very busy so I haven't been able to finish reading the novel. (present perfect)

When you finish the course, you'll be able to speak English really well. (future simple)

Note: We do not use be able to in the continuous.

- We use be able to after an infinitive:
   She hopes to be able to study medicine when she goes to university.
- We use be able to after modal verbs (might, should, may, etc.):

If I'm free this weekend, I might be able to help you paint your house.

When you've finished this course, you should be able to speak English very well.

• We usually use can and could with see, hear, smell, feel and taste:

From the top of the mountain we could see for miles. I can hear a strange noise coming from upstairs.

• However, we use manage when we succeed in doing something quite difficult to do:

I know you've been busy, but did you manage to phone my mum?

He managed to pass the exam, although he was feeling ill when he did it.

Note: could is not possible in this example: He could pass the exam, although he was feeling ill when he did it.

Expressing certainty and possibility

To express certainty about the present, we use:

must:

She's been in over 15 films, so she must be very well known.

Note: We usually have a good reason for expressing this certainty, e.g. She's been in over 15 films.

can't or couldn't for the negative (not mustn't):
 You can't be tired. You've just got out of bed!
 Mark couldn't have been at the party – he's on holiday in America at the moment.

To express certainty about the past, we use:

- must have + past participle:
   You have a very big part in the play. It must have taken you ages to learn all the lines.
- can't have and couldn't have + past participle in negative sentences:

She couldn't have stolen the money because she's far too honest!

To express possibility about the present or future, we use:

may, might or could:

I may come and visit you next summer.

We might go to the cinema if we finish all our work in time. We'd better go for a walk now because it could rain later.  may not and might not (or mightn't) in negative sentences (not can't or couldn't which express certainty):
 Frankie is looking very pale. He may not be very well.
 Don't cook any dinner for me because I might not be back in time.

To express possibility about the past, we use:

 may have, might have, could have, may not have, might not have + past participle:
 It's unlike Sally to be late. She may have overslept, or she might not have remembered the appointment.

Expressing obligation, prohibition and permission

Obligation - must and have to

We can often use must and have to without any difference in meaning:

Teachers must / have to try to make their lessons as interesting as possible.

However, we use:

- must + infinitive without to in the present tense. For other tenses, we use have to + infinitive:
   I'd like to go camping, but I'll have to ask my parents.
   In order to get the holiday job I had to fill in an application form and do an interview.
- have to more often in questions:
   Do we have to answer all the questions?
- must for a goal (or an obligation) that we give ourselves: I must go to the supermarket later.
- have to when the obligation comes from someone else:
   My teacher has given me a lot of homework which I have to do for Monday.
- must for strong advice:
   You must be careful if you stay out late at night.

Other ways of expressing obligation:

- We use be supposed to + infinitive to talk about an obligation which is different from what really happens: We're supposed to do five writing tasks each term. (But most people only do two or three.)
  - Aren't you supposed to be in class right now? (i.e. not out here playing football)
- We use should + infinitive without to to talk about the right thing to do, but which is different from what really happens:
  - You should answer using your own ideas, not things you have memorised beforehand.
- The past of should is should have + past participle:
   You shouldn't have tried to answer all three questions in Writing Part 2!
- We can use ought to to mean 'should':
   You ought to be more polite to the people you deal with.

Prohibition

We use these modal verbs and phrases to express prohibition: can't, mustn't, not let, (be) not allowed to, don't allow (somebody) to.

You can't go in there – it says 'No entry!'

You mustn't speak during the exam - it's forbidden.

My sister won't let me listen to her CDs.

I'm not allowed to use the kitchen in my host family's house. My parents didn't allow me to play computer games when I was small.

We do not use don't have to to express prohibition: You mustn't use your mobile phone in class. (It's not allowed.)

Compare this with:

You don't have to use your mobile phone to speak to Fayed. Look! He's over there. (i.e. It's not necessary.)

In the past, we use: couldn't, didn't let, wasn't allowed to, didn't allow (somebody) to:

I couldn't leave the room until the end of the meeting. She wasn't allowed to invite her boyfriend to the party.

We don't use mustn't to talk about the past:

I mustn't couldn't ride my bike to school because my mum thought it was dangerous.

We mustn't weren't allowed to use our dictionary in the exam last week.

Permission

To express permission, we use: can (past could), let, am allowed to and may (past was/were allowed to). You can only use your phone during the break, not in class. Are we allowed to use calculators in the maths exam? She let him borrow her bicycle to get to the station.

We only use may in formal situations:

It's not necessary to stay until the end of the examination. When you have answered all the questions, you may leave the room.

To say that there is no obligation, or it's not necessary, we use: don't have to, don't need to and needn't:
This is a really good exercise on phrasal verbs for anyone who's interested, but it's not for homework, so you don't have to do it if you don't want to. You needn't learn all the vocabulary on this page – only the words you think are useful.

I didn't need to means 'It wasn't necessary and I didn't do it'; I needn't have means 'It wasn't necessary but I did it': I didn't need to buy a newspaper to find out the story because I'd already heard it on the radio.

What lovely roses! You needn't have bought me so many, but it was very generous of you.

Prepositions

at, in and on in time expressions

We use at with:

points of time:

at three o'clock, at the end of the lesson, at midnight

• mealtimes:

We can meet at breakfast.

the weekend, Christmas and Easter:
 Why don't we go to the cinema at the weekend?

night when talking about nights in general:
 I prefer to study at night because it's quieter.

Note: on the weekend is common in American English.

We use in:

 for periods of time: in 2014, in April, in the summer, in the 19th century for parts of the day:

 Paola often has a short sleep in the afternoon. (But Paola slept for two hours on Sunday afternoon. See below.)

 to say the period of time before something happens or how long something takes:
 I'll be going to university in six weeks' time.
 He did the writing task in just 13 minutes.

We use on:

for particular dates, days, parts of days or types of days:
 He was born on July 13th.
 What are you doing on Sunday night?
 I got married on a sunny day in August.

at, in and on to express location

We use at:

 when we think of a place as a point, not an area (including at home, at school, at work, at university):
 The postman is at the front door.

• to talk about an event with a number of people: I'll see you at the party tonight!

for addresses:
 The party is at 367 Wood Avenue.

We use in:

when we think of a place as an area or space:
 Olga lives in St Petersburg.
 Sonia lives in a large house in the country.

• for cars and taxis:

I love listening to music when I'm in the car.

- normally with in class, in hospital, in prison, in court:
   Patrick is in hospital with a broken leg.
- with people or things which form lines:
   We stood in the ticket queue for four hours.
- for the world:
   He's reputed to be one of the richest men in the world.

We use on:

- to talk about a position in contact with a surface: There's an insect on your forehead.
   She lay on the beach all day.
- with coast, road to, the outskirts of, the edge of, border, the way to/from, etc:

We can stop at my village, which is on the way to Madrid.

- with means of transport apart from cars and taxis (see above):
   I always get frightened on planes.
- for technology:
   He's been on the phone for hours.
   I found out about it on Facebook.
- with left and right:
   Talk to the student on your right.
- with premises, farm, floor, island and list:
   It's on the fifth floor.
   You're not on my list of students for this class.

at	m	on
at your/my house	in the world	on the beach

Relative pronouns and relative clauses

A clause is a group of words containing a subject and a verb in a tense which form a sentence or part of a sentence. Relative clauses start with these relative pronouns: who, which, that, whose, where, when and why.

relative clause

The man who phoned you is my doctor.

Defining relative clauses

Relative clauses which tell us which particular person or thing the speaker is talking about are called defining relative clauses. They give essential information:

The doctor who treated me is my cousin.

The relative clause tells us which doctor we are talking about.

Non-defining relative clauses

Relative clauses which give us extra information are called non-defining relative clauses:

My doctor, who belongs to the same tennis club as you, vaccinated me yesterday.

We already know which doctor (it's my doctor); who belongs to the same tennis club as you does not tell us which doctor we are talking about; it just adds extra information.

There are differences in grammar:

defining	non-defining
relative clauses	relative clauses
<ul> <li>Don't have commas.</li> <li>Use the following relative pronouns: who, which, whose, where, when and why.</li> <li>Can use that instead of who or which.</li> <li>who, which or that can be omitted when they are the object of the clause: The medicine ( - / which / that) the doctor gave me should be taken twice a day (the doctor is the subject and - / which / that the object of the clause).</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Use commas (or pauses in spoken English).</li> <li>Use the following relative pronouns: who, which, whose, where and when.</li> <li>Don't use that.</li> <li>The relative pronoun cannot be omitted.</li> </ul>

Reported speech

Tense changes in reported speech

If the reporting verb (said, told, admitted, warned, etc.) is in the past, we tend to change the original verb to a past form as well. Here are some changes we make:

present simple → past simple	'I live in Berlin.'	She said she lived in Berlin.
present continuous → past continuous	'I'm watching TV.'	He said he was watching TV.
present perfect → past perfect	'I 've seen the film already.'	She said she had seen the film already.
past simple → past perfect	'I missed the concert.'	He told me he had missed the concert.
will → would	'I'll phone you soon.'	She promised she would phone me soon.

We also change these modal verbs:

can → could	'I can understand German, but I can't speak it.'	She said she could understand German but she couldn't speak it.
may → might	'I may give the book to John.'	Sam suggested he might give the book to John.
must → had to	'I must cook dinner.'	Tanya said she had to cook dinner.

We do not change these modal verbs in reported speech: could, would, should, might, ought to and used to:
'I would prefer to study in London.' → She said that she would prefer to study in London.

must can change to had to:

'You must read this text for the next lesson.' → My teacher told me I had to read the text for the following lesson.

But we don't change must when:

- it's negative:
  - 'You mustn't tell Katya our secret.'
  - → Ana told Stefan he mustn't tell Katya their secret.
- it expresses a deduction:

he could phone him.

- 'Arturo must still be asleep.'
- → She said that Arturo must still be asleep.

Note: If the reporting verb is in a present tense, no tense changes are necessary: 'I'll help you with your homework.'

→ She says she'll help me with my homework.

Questions in reported speech

To report a question, we make the following changes.

- We change the word order in the question to the same as a normal sentence.
- We make the same tense changes as in reported speech (see above).
- We use the same question words (when, how, etc.).
- We use a full stop (.), not a question mark (?):
   'How long have you been living in London?' → She asked me how long I had been living in London.
   'When can I phone you?' → Abdullah asked Magdi when
- We do not use the auxiliary verbs do, does and did; the question has the same form as a normal sentence:
   'What time does the lesson start?' → Ludmila asked what
  - 'What time does the lesson start?' → Ludmila asked what time the lesson started.
- We use if or whether with Yes/No questions:
   'Can I come to your party?' → Aniela wanted to know whether she could come to our party.

We often use these verbs and phrases to introduce reported questions: ask, wonder, want to know, enquire.

Pronoun, adjective and adverb changes in reported speech

We usually make the following changes:

you → he/she/they	'I spoke to you earlier.'	He said he had spoken to her earlier.
<ul><li>your → his/her/ their</li><li>our → their</li></ul>	'I saw your brother earlier.'	He mentioned that he had seen her brother earlier.
this/that (as pronouns) → it	'You should give this to Joan.'	She told him he should give it to Joan.
this/that/these/ those + noun → the + noun	'This work is very good.'	She told him the work was very good.

Remember that references to times also need to change in reported speech:

'I saw Adam this morning.' → She said she had seen Adam that morning.

Other changes include:

present reference	• today • this week / this month / this year	<ul> <li>that day</li> <li>that week / that month / that year</li> </ul>
future reference	• tomorrow • next month/ next year	<ul> <li>the next / the following day</li> <li>the next / the following month/year</li> </ul>
past reference	• yesterday • last week/ month/year	<ul> <li>the day before OR the previous day</li> <li>the previous week/month/ year OR the week/month/ year before</li> </ul>

Descriptions of place also frequently change: 'Did I leave my book here?' He asked if he'd left his book there.

Imperatives in reported speech

We use verb + infinitive to report orders and commands: 'Fetch that book!' → She asked him to fetch the book. 'Don't look out of the window!' → She told him not to look out of the window.

Reporting verbs

There are many verbs which we can use to introduce reported speech, each followed by different grammatical patterns. You will see that most verbs can be followed by more than one grammatical pattern.

- suggest + (that) + sentence: Tony suggested that they played football that afternoon.
- suggest + (that) + should:

- invite + object + to + noun:
  Patsy has invited me to the party.
- See also page 166: Infinitive and verb + -ing forms
- See also page 177: The passive the passive with reporting verbs

so and such, too and enough

so and such

so and such (a/an) mean 'very', 'extremely':

That was so kind of you!

I've had such a nice time.

We use so and such (a/an) to talk about cause and effect: He was so late that he missed the beginning of the exam. She gave such a good performance that she won an Oscar.

so + adjective or adverb (+ that):	such + adjective + uncountable noun / plural noun (+ that)
<ul> <li>He was so nervous before the exam that he couldn't sleep at all.</li> <li>That remark was just so silly!</li> <li>He cooks so well that I think he'll win the competition.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>She tells such good jokes.</li> <li>Switzerland has such spectacular scenery that we always choose it for our holidays.</li> </ul>

so + much/many/few/little such alan + adjective + + noun (+ that) singular countable noun (+ that); such a lot of ... • We had so little money • Why did you come in such left at the end of our an old pair of jeans? holiday that we had to It was such a beautiful day sleep on a bench in the that we decided to go for station. a picnic. • Marta makes so many • Elena's got such a lot of mistakes when she's friends that the telephone speaking! never stops ringing.

We also use such (+ noun) to mean 'of a similar type': When children commit crimes, adults are often shocked. Fortunately such behaviour is not as common as newspapers make us believe.

too and enough

- too means 'more than is needed or wanted': She's too old to join the police.
- enough means 'as much as is necessary or needed': Have we got enough eggs to make a cake?

too + adjective (+ noun) + (for somebody) (+ infinitive)	adjective/adverb + enough + (for somebody) (+ infinitive)

You're driving too dangerously. Please slow down. They brought too much food for us to eat. I've received too many emails to answer.	Have you got enough money to get to London? There isn't enough cake in the cupboard for me to give some to everyone.

Spelling

Spelling changes when adding -ed, -ing, -er and -est to words

We double the final consonant when we add -ed, -ing, -er or -est to words:

- which are one syllable and end in a consonant-vowelconsonant: stop – stopped, hit – hitting, flat – flatter
- which have two or more syllables which end in consonantvowel-consonant and the final syllable is stressed: admit - admitted, occur - occurring

Note: In British English, we always double a final 'I' after a single vowel: travel - travelling, cancel - cancelled

We don't double the final consonant when:

- there are two final consonants: send sending, hard - hardest
- there are two vowels before the final consonant: appeal - appealed, mean - meanest
- the word ends in a vowel: strike striking, safe safest

- for a verb, the stress is not on the final syllable: open - opening
- the word ends in -w, -x or -y: slow – slower, relax – relaxing, display – displayed

When adding -ed, a final 'y' after a consonant becomes 'i': study - studied, lovely - loveliest When adding -ing, a final 'y' after a consonant does not change: study - studying

Note: Notice how the spelling of these words changes: lie – lying – lied; die – dying – died; lay – laying – laid; try - trying - tried

Spelling changes when adding prefixes and other suffixes

We normally do not change the spelling of the base word when we add a prefix or a suffix: need - unneeded, arrange - arrangement

However:

- we drop the final 'e' when there is a consonant before it and the suffix begins with a vowel (-er, -ed, -ing, -ance, -ation, etc.): irritate - irritating, fame - famous
- we do not drop the final 'e' when the suffix begins with a consonant: safe - safety, manage - management
- a final 'y' becomes 'i': industry industrial

Adding prefixes

When we add a syllable like un-, dis-, or in- before the word to make it negative, we do not change the spelling, e.g. with dis- and un-: appoint - disappoint, satisfied - dissatisfied, like – unlike, necessary – unnecessary

Note: Before words beginning with 'r', we use ir-: irrelevant; before words beginning with 'm' or 'p', we use im-: immature, impatient; before words beginning with 'l', we use il-: illogical, illiterate.

These words are frequently misspelled by exam candidates:

The most common spelling errors by candidates

accommodation advertisement beautiful because beginning believe between children comfortable communicate convenient country/countries course different embarrassed/embarrassing environment excellent experience government loose lose necessary nowadays opinion opportunity/opportunities prefer receive recommend restaurant society their until wealthy which

The passive

The passive is formed by the verb to be + past participle (done/eaten/cleaned, etc.).

active	passive
• They ate all the food	All the food was eaten
very quickly.	very quickly.
• We've sold the car.	• The car has been sold.
• It's nice when people	• It's nice when I'm invited invite me to dinner.	to dinner.
• On a clear day, you	On a clear day, Ibiza can see Ibiza from the	can be seen from the mainland.	mainland.

We use the passive when:

- what happens is more important than who does it: The car has been repaired, so we can go away this weekend.
- we don't know who or what does/did something:
   My mobile phone has been stolen!
- we don't need to say who or what does/did something because it's obvious from the situation or context:
   The law was passed earlier this year (obviously by a government).
- when writing in an official style:
   Your ticket has been booked and can be collected from our office.

The passive with get

- We can use get instead of be to form the passive, especially when we want to say that something happened to someone or something:
  - He got hurt playing football yesterday. (He was hurt.)
    I'm afraid we were playing football and one of your windows got broken. (One of your windows was broken.)
- get is used mainly in informal spoken English.
- We only use get when something happens or changes: He got arrested by the police.
- It is not possible with state verbs:
   The car got owned by a film star.
   The car was owned by a film star.

The passive with reporting verbs

We often use the passive to report what people say, think, etc., especially when we don't know who said it or thought it, or it's not important:

The Queen is thought to be suffering from a heavy cold. Fernando Alonso is considered to be the best Spanish Formula One driver of all time.

This use of the passive is common in news reports.

We use three possible forms:

- He/She is said/thought/considered, etc. + infinitive: Lions are known to hunt in this area.
   Elena is thought to be highly intelligent.
- Verbs that we can use with this pattern are:

consider expect feel know say suppose think understand

- To talk about the past, we can use: She is said to have played/eaten/been, etc.:
   The Prime Minister is understood to have spoken to the
- rebels on the phone.
  It is said/thought/considered, etc. + that + a sentence:
  It is thought that Elena is highly intelligent.
  - It is known that lions hunt in this area.
- Verbs that we can use with this pattern are:

agree announce consider decide expect fee find know propose recommend say suggest suppose think understand

- It is agreed/planned, etc. + infinitive:
   It has been agreed to change the dates of the meeting.
- Verbs that we can use with this pattern are:

agree decide forbid hope plan propose

Using commas

We use commas (,):

 when we make lists:
 I like playing tennis, listening to music, chatting with friends and watching TV.

Note: We don't use a comma with the final item on the list; we use and.

 to separate adjectives when there are a number of adjectives before the noun:
 He's an enthusiastic, hard-working student.

Note: With short common adjectives, commas are not necessary:

My village is quite a friendly little place.

 after an adverb or a short introductory phrase at the beginning of a sentence such as first, as a result, consequently, for this reason, all in all, generally, finally, however, in my opinion, etc.:

Generally, people in my country start university aged 19. In my opinion, young people should help their parents to do the housework.

- after a time phrase at the beginning of a sentence: In 2014, he left school and went to university.
- after clauses at the beginning of sentences starting with if, unless, when, while, after, before, although, even though, whereas, as, etc.:
  - When everyone in a family helps with the housework, they have a better relationship.
- when we join two sentences with but, we often put a comma before but:
  - He got quite good marks in his exams, but he wasn't happy with his results.

Using it, this, that or they

We use it, this and that (in the plural they, these and those) to refer to something we have already mentioned. Often more than one of them is correct in the context. However:

- we use it when we are not making any emphasis: I prefer listening to live music. It's more spontaneous.
- this and that are more emphatic in drawing attention to the thing just mentioned: People usually listen to music through headphones.

There's some evidence that this damages their hearing.

- we often use this when:
  - we still have something more to say about the thing we are referring to:
    - File sharing has become a common activity. This is having serious effects on the music industry.
  - we refer to the second of two things mentioned in the previous sentence. Compare:
    - 1 While many festivals are welcomed by local people, they are usually very noisy. This means that people living in the district find it hard to sleep. (This = the noise)
    - 2 While many festivals are welcomed by local people, they are usually very noisy. Also, they are normally held in the summer. (they = the festivals)
- we often use that in conditional sentences: I think that every town and village should have a festival if that is what local people want.

Verb tenses

Simple and continuous forms

- Present simple describes a situation which is permanent, or happens regularly:
  - Paul lives in London.
  - He catches the bus at eight every morning.
- Present continuous describes a temporary situation or one in progress:
  - I'm staying with my aunt while Mum and Dad are away. He's playing tennis at the moment.

State verbs

We do not usually use verbs which describe states, not actions, in the continuous. These verbs describe:

- thoughts: believe, know, remember, think (meaning 'believe'), feel (meaning 'believe'), suppose, etc.
- feelings: love, like, hate, want, prefer, etc.
- senses: smell, hear, taste, see, feel, touch
- possession: have, belong, own, etc.
- the verb to be

Note:

- When think means 'to use your brain to plan something, solve a problem, make a decision', etc., it can be used in the continuous:
  - I'm thinking about what to do today. (I'm planning.)
- When feel means 'to experience something physical or emotional', it can be used in the continuous: I don't want to come to the party because I'm feeling tired.

Candidates often spell these words wrong:

writting writing studing studying comming coming

See also page 176: Spelling

Present perfect simple and continuous

Both the present perfect simple and present perfect continuous talk about something which started in the past and:

- either has a result in the present: He's twisted his ankle, so he can't play football with us this afternoon.
  - I've been partying all weekend, so I'm feeling tired now.
- or is still happening now:
  - We've been building an extension to our house (and we haven't finished yet).

Often they are interchangeable. However:

The present perfect simple	The present perfect continuous emphasises the result: I've phoned all my friends and they're coming to the party.	emphasises the action: I've been phoning my friends (and that's why I haven't done my homework).
says how much of an activity is complete : I've written two essays.	says how long the activity has been in progress: I've been studying all afternoon.

may give the idea that something is permanent (and may be accompanied by a time expression which shows this):  My dad has worked in the same shop all his life. I've always lived here.	may give the idea that something is temporary (and may be accompanied by a time expression which shows this):  I've been working here for the last two months until I go to university.  We've been eating dinner in the garden during the warm weather.
is used when we want to say how many times an action has been repeated: I've invited her two or three times, but she always says she's busy.	when we want to emphasise the process of change over a period of time and that these changes are not finished: My teacher says my English has been improving since I started doing my homework!

Remember! State verbs are not normally used in the continuous.

See also page 178: Verb tenses – state verbs

Past simple, past continuous and used to

Past simple

We use the past simple to talk about:

- actions or events in the past: I visited Egypt last year.
- actions or events which happened one after another: I saw the Pyramids, then I went round the Cairo Museum and later I went to a traditional restaurant.
- things which happened for a long time in the past: She lived in Zurich for ten years from 2003 to 2013.

Past continuous

We use the past continuous to talk about:

- an activity which started before and continued until an event in the past:
  - He was riding to school when his motorbike broke down. (The activity of riding was interrupted by the problem with the motorbike.)
- an activity which started before and continued after an event in the past:
  - I was watching television when the news was announced. (I continued to watch television afterwards.)

Remember! State verbs are not normally used in the continuous.

See also page 178: Verb tenses – state verbs

used to

We use used to to talk about:

- situations or states in the past which are not true now: My maths teacher used to be in the army.
- · repeated activities or habits in the past which do not happen now:

She used to run in the London Marathon every year until she injured her leg.

Note: We only use used to in the past:

She used to run in marathons.

Did you use to run in marathons?

I didn't use to run in marathons.

• When we want to talk about habits in the present, we use the present simple with an adverb like usually, every day,

I usually drink tea with my lunch. He catches the same train every day.

Past perfect simple and continuous

Past perfect simple

We use the past perfect simple:

 to indicate that we are talking about something which happened before something which is described in the past simple:

When he got to the station, his train had already left. Compare this with:

This indicates that the train left at the time he arrived.

• typically with time expressions such as when, as soon as, after, before, etc.:

She started driving before he'd fastened his seatbelt.

• often with these adverbs: already, just, never: He'd never eaten steak and kidney pie until he came to England.

Past perfect continuous

We use the past perfect continuous to show that we are talking about something which happened before something which is described in the past simple, but it:

- focuses on the length of time: Mandy needed a walk because she'd been sitting down
- says how long something happened up to a point in the

It was two months before any of the teachers noticed that Paula hadn't been coming to school.

He'd been playing for Arsenal for only two games when he scored his first goal.

wish, if only and hope

We use wish / if only + past simple to say we would like a present situation to be different:

I wish I had a warmer jacket. (This one doesn't keep me warm.) If only it was the summer holidays! (But it isn't – I'm still at school.)

Note: This use of wish / if only is similar to second conditional, i.e. it uses a past tense to refer to something which is contrary to the facts in the present.

We use wish / if only + would to say:

- we want something to happen:
   I wish my car would start. (I can't make it start and I want it to start.)
- we want someone to start doing something they don't do:
   If only you'd listen to me!
- or we want someone to stop doing something which annoys us:

If only my mum wouldn't phone me every five minutes!

We use wish / if only + past perfect to talk about things which we are unhappy about which happened in the past: He wishes he had studied harder when he was at school. (He didn't study hard enough – perhaps if he had studied harder he would have gone to university.)

Note: This use of wish / if only is similar to third conditional, i.e. it uses a past perfect tense to refer to something which is contrary to the facts in the past.

If only means 'I wish'. When talking about other people, we use he wishes, they wish, etc. We use if only when we feel something very strongly. Otherwise we use I wish.

We use hope when we want something to happen or to be true, and usually have a good reason to think that it might: I hope you have a good holiday.

She hopes her students will get a high grade in their exams.

Note: We use hope + present/future tense with a future meaning, especially when the subject of the two clauses is different, i.e. I and you in I hope you have a good holiday. We often use hope + infinitive when there is only one subject to the sentence:

He hopes to go into politics in the future. (He hopes he'll go into politics in the future.)

We can use hope when we want something to be true about the past, but we don't know if it is true:

I hope you had a good flight. (but I don't know if you had a good flight.)

Word formation

Forming personal nouns

You can form personal nouns (nouns which describe people who do particular activities) by adding:

- -er, -or, -ant, -ee to a verb, e.g. entertain entertainer, operate – operator, inhabit – inhabitant, refer – referee
- -ist, -ian, -man/-woman/-person to a noun, e.g. motor motorist, electricity – electrician, post – postman

Adding prefixes

Prefixes to give negative meanings

You can give some words the negative meaning by adding a prefix (e.g. dis- + like = dislike) to the beginning of a word. Here are some common prefixes which give a negative meaning:

- dis-: discourage
- in-: inexperienced
- un-: unbelievable

Before many words beginning with:

- 'I' we add the prefix il-: illegal
- 'm' and 'p' we add the prefix im-: impatient
- 'r' we add the prefix ir-: irresponsible

Other prefixes and their meanings:

- mis- usually means 'wrongly' or 'badly':
   misunderstand (= understand wrongly or badly)
- re- usually means 'do again' and is often added to verbs:
   rewrite (= write again)
- inter- means 'between or among': interact

Note: When you add a prefix to a word, the spelling of the original word does not change: dis + satisfied = dissatisfied

Adding suffixes

You can form verbs, nouns, adjectives and adverbs from other related or base words by adding a suffix (e.g. appear + -ance = appearance) to the end of the word. There are no clear rules – each word and the words which can be formed from it must be learned individually.

Writing reference

What to expect in the exam

The Writing paper is Paper 2. It lasts 1 hour and 20 minutes. You do two tasks.

- In Part 1, there is one task (an essay) which you must do.
- In Part 2, you choose one of three tasks.

Part 1: Essays

You write an essay. The purpose of an essay is for you to discuss a subject, express your opinion and give reasons for your opinion.

You are given an essay title and some notes.

 You must write an essay answering the essay question and using all the notes. The task will tell you: In your English class, you have been talking about / discussing ... Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

The notes outline three areas you must cover. The final note will always be your own idea.

• Your essay must be between 140 and 190 words.

The title will ask you to write one of two types of essay:

- 1 An essay in which you are asked to discuss a statement and give your opinion, e.g. Private cars should be banned from city centres. Do you agree?
- 2 An essay in which you are asked to discuss which of two things is better, e.g. Is it better for students to study something they really enjoy when they leave school, or something which will give them a good job?

You should:

- cover the two points you are given in the notes as well as your own idea in the third point
- organise your answer in a logical way using paragraphs and linking sentences and paragraphs appropriately
- express your opinion clearly on the subject of the essay
- give reasons and examples to support your ideas
- use a style appropriate for the situation (this should be quite formal, as it is an essay for your teacher)
- write grammatically correct sentences
- use accurate spelling and punctuation.

You have 40 minutes to do this part (the Writing paper lasts 1 hour 20 minutes, so if you spend more time on this part, you will have less time for the other part).

You studied and practised writing essays for Part 1 in Units 1, 5, 8, 11 and 14.

How to do Part 1

- 1 Read the instructions, i.e. the task (what you have talked about in class, the essay title and the notes) carefully.
- 2 Underline the areas you must deal with in the essay title and in the notes. You'll lose marks if you don't deal with them all.
- 3 Think and decide what your opinion or position is on the subject of the essay and why you have this opinion.
- 4 Think and make notes about how you can cover the points listed in the notes.
- 5 Organise your notes into a plan. When writing your plan, decide how many paragraphs you need and what each paragraph will cover. Your plan should include short introductory and concluding paragraphs (see Units 5 and 11).
- 6 Before writing your essay, check that your plan covers the three areas.
- 7 Write your essay following your plan.
- 8 Make sure you express your opinion clearly in your answer and that the arguments you express support your opinion.
- 9 When you have finished, read your answer carefully. Check you have written between 140 and 190 words and correct any mistakes you find.

Note: If you write fewer than 140 words, you probably haven't answered the question/task completely and you will lose marks. If you write more than 190 words in the time, you may make too many mistakes and risk being irrelevant. Also, if you write too much, the examiner will stop reading after about 200 words and you will lose marks for an incomplete answer.

Exercise 1

- 1 Read this writing task, which asks you to discuss an opinion, and underline the areas you must deal with.
- 2 Decide what your position or opinion is and why.
- 3 Think how you can cover notes 1 and 2 to support your position/opinion.
- 4 Think what your own idea is and how you can use this to support your position/opinion.

In your English class, you have been talking about how long young people should stay in education.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all the notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

All young people should continue at school or college until at least the age of 18. Do you agree?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. qualifications for jobs
- 2. students who don't like school
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

Exercise 2

Read the essay in the next column and complete this plan for it.

Para. 1: Introduction: the situation now +
Para. 2: Why stay at school:
1st reason
2nd reason
Para. 3: Why leave school:
1st reason
2nd reason
Para. 4: My own idea:+ solution:
Para. 5: My opinion + reason(s)

Write a brief introductory paragraph where you:

- explain the present situation
- outline your position/ opinion.

An essay for your teacher has quite a formal style, so don't use contractions.

Use linking words and phrases to help your readers follow the ideas. Although in my country compulsory education finishes at the age of 16, I believe that young people should continue in education at least till they are 18.

There are two good reasons for encouraging young people to stay at school. Firstly, because jobs are becoming more and more specialised and technical, it is almost impossible for 16-year-olds to find work. Secondly, if they stay at school, they will receive the education and training which will create more opportunities for them in the future.

On the other hand, many students would like to leave school at 16. This is because they find school difficult or they do not enjoy studying. They would prefer to be working and earning money.

A further point is that unmotivated students disrupt lessons, and this causes problems for students who do want to study. Therefore, after 16 they should only study technical or practical subjects that interest them.

In conclusion, I believe it is a mistake for people to leave school too soon, because they will miss opportunities which may arise in the future.

Exercise 3

Read this writing task and underline the areas you must deal with

In your English class, you have been talking about the advantages and disadvantages of travelling abroad on holiday.

Now your English teacher has asked you to write an essay.

Write an essay using all the notes and give reasons for your point of view.

Essay question

Is it better to visit places in your own country or a foreign country when you go on holiday?

Notes

Write about:

- 1. which is more interesting
- 2. which is cheaper
- 3. ..... (your own idea)

Write your essay.

Exercise 4

Read this essay. It shows a different way of organising an essay from the sample answer in Exercise 2. How is this essay organised differently?

There are strong arguments in favour of both staying in your own country and travelling abroad. I personally think that people should do both.

There are several reasons for staying in your own country. Firstly, I think it's important to know, enjoy and feel proud of your country and there is usually a lot which is fascinating about its history and culture, which is important to learn and experience. Secondly, you may be able to save money by finding cheaper accommodation. Finally, because you speak the language, you will avoid many of the problems you might have when travelling abroad.

On the other hand, when you go abroad, you can learn from the way other people live. Also, if you choose the right destination, it may be just as cheap as travelling in your own country, especially if you use youth hostels. Finally, it gives you an opportunity to learn and practise other languages, which is good for your education.

For these reasons, I think that people should travel abroad from time to time, but also spend time visiting their own country to appreciate what is good and interesting in both. You don't have to choose one option or the other if you think both have advantages.

It helps the reader if you have a short sentence or phrase at the beginning of the paragraph stating the topic.

Use a variety of grammatical structures, e.g. conditionals and relative clauses.

Part 2

In Part 2, you must choose from one of three writing tasks.

- The tasks you choose from will be three of these four possibilities: an article, an email/ letter, a report or a review. It is important to know how to write all of these possibilities so you can make the best choice in the exam.
- You must answer the task with your own ideas. In most tasks, there are two things you must deal with.
- You must write between 140 and 190 words.

This part tests your ability to:

- deal with the type of task you have chosen
- use an appropriate style for the task you have chosen
- organise and structure your writing
- express opinions, describe, explain, make recommendations, make suggestions, etc.
- use an appropriate range of vocabulary and grammatical structures.

How to do Part 2

- Quickly read the questions and choose the task you think you can do best.
- 2 Read the task you choose carefully and underline:
  - who will read what you write
  - the points you must deal with
  - anything else you think is important.
- 3 Decide if you need a formal or informal style.
- 4 Think of ideas you can use to deal with the question and note them down while you're thinking.
- 5 Decide which ideas are the most useful and write a plan. When writing your plan, decide how many paragraphs you need and what to say in each paragraph.
- 6 Think of useful vocabulary you can include in your answer and note it down in your plan.
- 7 Write your answer following your plan.
- 8 When you have finished, read your answer carefully. Check you have written between 140 and 190 words and correct any mistakes you find.

Emails and letters

You studied and practised writing an email/letter in Units 6 and 12.

Exercise 1

Read the writing task below and underline:

- 1 who the reader(s) will be
- 2 what points you must deal with
- 3 anything else you think is important.

You have received this letter from an English friend, Pat. Read this part of the letter.

I'm doing a project on family life in different countries and I wonder if you could tell me a bit about family life in your country. I'd like to know what a typical family in your country is like and how family life is changing.

Write your letter.

Exercise 2

Read Teresa's answer below.

- 1 What details does she give of a typical family in Spain?
- 2 How is family life changing?

Dear Pat,

Thanks for your letter asking for information about family life in Spain. Families in Spain are still very close, and family members take a lot of trouble to spend time together and help each other. Families often get together at weekends, and young people normally live with their parents until they are 25 or 30. People tend to get married in their 30s, which means that they start to have children quite late. As a result, families usually have just one or two children.

However, family life is changing. One of the main reasons is that most women now-work. As a consequence, men have to take more responsibility in the home.

Another change is that, because both partners work, people are richer, so more and more families are now moving out of the cities to larger houses in the suburbs.

I hope that answers your questions. Please write to me if you need any more information. I'd love to see your finished project and read what you say about family life in other countries too.

Love,

Teresa

Write a natural introduction and conclusion.

Use linking words and phrases, e.g. As a result, However, As a consequence

Reports

You studied and practised writing reports in Units 3 and 9.

Exercise 1

Read this task and answer the questions below.

Your teacher has asked you to write a report on things for young people to do in their free time in the area where you live. In your report, you should mention what free-time facilities there are and recommend improvements.

Write your report.

- 1 Do you think you should use a formal or informal style for this report?
- 2 Read Christine's report on the right.
  - Is the style formal or informal?
  - Does it answer the question completely?

Report on free-time facilities in my area

Introduction

The aim of this report is to outline what young people do in my area in their free time, what facilities exist for them and how these could be made better.

Free-time activities

My town, Beauvoir, is quite small, so it does not have a cinema or theatre and there is only one club for young people. As a result, young people have to take the train or bus to Nantes, which is about 30 kilometres away if they want these things. On the other hand, it is situated by the sea, so many young people spend their free time on the beach or doing water sports.

Other facilities

Beauvoir has a sports centre with tennis courts, a football pitch and a swimming pool. There are also a number of cafés where young people normally go to meet each other and spend their free time.

Recommendations

I recommend that the town council should set up a youth club where young people could meet, do other activities and also see films. This would encourage young people to stay in the town at weekends and improve their social life.

Notice the layout. The report has:

- a title
- is divided into sections
- each section has a heading.

Normally, we state the aim or purpose of the report at the beginning.

Avoid repeating exactly the words of the question, e.g. the question says recommend improvements, but the report says how these could be made better.

Give reasons for your recommendations.

Starting a report

- The aim of this report is + infinitive: The aim of this report is to outline ...
- The purpose of this report is + infinitive: The purpose of this report is to describe...

Making recommendations and suggestions

- I recommend that: I recommend that the town council should set up a youth club ...
- I (would) recommend + verb + -ing: I would recommend setting up a youth
- I suggest + verb + -ing: I suggest buying more equipment for the sports centre.
- I suggest that ...: I suggest that the council should provide cheap transport for young people and students.
- It would be a good idea (for somebody) + infinitive: It would be a good idea for the council to provide cheap transport for young people and students.

Reviews

You studied and practised writing reviews in Units 4 and 10.

Exercise 1

Read the writing task below.

- 2 Underline anything else you think is important.

You see this announcement in your school's English-language magazine.

Have you seen a film or read a book recently that you think everyone would enjoy? We want to know about it! Write a review of the film or book saying what it's about and why we would all enjoy it.

Write your review.

Exercise 2

Read Franz's review below. Which paragraphs say:

- 1 what the book is about?
- 2 why we would all enjoy it?

'The Time Traveler's Wife' by Audrey Niffenegger

This is an original and moving love story told from the point of view of the two main characters, Henry and Clare. Henry is a librarian who has a genetic problem which causes him to move backwards and forwards in time. Without warning, he disappears leaving everything behind and arrives at another time in his life. He can't control when or where he's going.

When he travels, he often meets the same girl, Clare, at different times in her life. Eventually they fall in love even though sometimes when they meet he is much older than her and at other times they are the same age.

I think everyone will enjoy this unusual story because it combines a little science fiction with a wonderful romantic story. Henry's problem causes situations which / are funny, sometimes frightening, usually awkward and often very strange. The novel is fascinating because it makes you think about the nature of time. At the same time, you see how the characters and their relationships change during their lives but how their love grows stronger.

Give your review a title.

Mention:

- the type of book/film
- the characters
- some of the story
- what makes the book/ film different.

Use plenty of adjectives to describe:

- the book/film
- how you feel about it.

Ways of praising

- 7 Make sure that the plan
- 8 Write the article following
- 9 While you are writing, think about
- a answers the question.
- b in each paragraph.
- c make a plan.
- d looking at the type of newspaper or magazine you are writing for.
- e is suitable for your readers.
- f the effect on your readers.
- q who will read the article.
- h will find interesting.
- i your plan.

Exercise 2

Read Luis's article below and match the notes for his plan (a–d) with the paragraph numbers.

- a How we became friends same table at school, playground, visit each other's houses
- b My first impressions of Thea contrast with other kids
- c When I met Thea on school bus
- d Why so special share secrets, help each other, spend time together, sit together

An article should have a title.

Notice the adverbs. You will get higher marks if you use a range of vocabulary.

Instead of using the same word again, use different words with similar meanings, e.g. shy – timidly.

Good to have a small joke at the end!

An inseparable friend

Thea has been my best friend from that day when, aged seven, I climbed onto the school bus to go to my new primary school.

I wandered nervously down the bus, which was full of noisy kids shouting and laughing excitedly, and found a place beside a quiet girl with fair hair and friendly green eyes.

We were both very shy, so we didn't talk much to each other on the way to school, although we smiled at each other timidly And when we went into class we naturally sat down together at the same table. Gradually we got to know each other, we played together in the playground, we visited each other's houses and our parents soon became firm friends as well.

We still share each other's secrets and we have complete confidence in each other. When either of us has a problem, the other is always ready to help. We have so much in common that we spend most of our free time together. We've even been on holiday together sometimes. And we still share the same table at school ten years later!

Speaking reference

What to expect in the exam

The Speaking paper is Paper 5.

- It lasts approximately 14 minutes.
- You do the Speaking paper in pairs. (Certain test centres may allow you to take the test with a friend, otherwise you will be partnered with a stranger).
- There are two examiners in the room; one gives you instructions and asks you questions, the other listens but does not speak.
- You may do the Speaking paper on a different day from the other parts of the exam.
- The Speaking paper has four parts.

Part 1

Part 1 is a conversation between the examiner and each candidate and lasts two minutes. You are asked questions about yourself, your family, your hobbies and interests, your studies or your work, your likes and dislikes. Questions may also be about your past experiences and your future plans.

You studied and practised Part 1 in Units 1, 5 and 10.

How to do Part 1

- 1 Don't prepare detailed answers before you go to the exam and don't memorise answers to possible questions: examiners will recognise this and not mark you for these.
- 2 Do make sure that you know the vocabulary you need to talk about your studies, your job, your family, your town and your free-time activities.
- 3 Listen to the examiner's questions carefully.
- 4 Look confidently at the examiner and perhaps smile a little when you answer the questions.
- 5 Answer the questions openly and, when appropriate, answer with extra details, or a reason.
- 6 Be ready to offer extra information about yourself and try to speak fluently and confidently.

1 Read the advice and the example questions (1–9). Then match the answers on page 195 (a–i) with the questions.

Advice and example questions

- 1 Don't just answer the question give some extra details if you can.
  - Question: Where are you from? ... b...
- 2 You can offer several ideas or answers to the same question.
  - Question: What do young people do in their free time in your town? ........
- 3 Avoid giving simple Yes/No answers which end the conversation.
  - Question: Do you like doing sports?......
- 4 A question which starts, 'Tell us a little about ...' gives you an opportunity to say quite a lot.
  - Question: Tell us a little about your family. ..........
- 5 When you speak about things you like or enjoy, sound enthusiastic. Be ready to use past tenses and time adverbs.
  - Question: Tell us about something you really enjoyed doing recently. ........
- 6 Be ready to talk about the future and use different tenses to do so.
  - Question: What job would you like to do in the future?
- 7 If you don't understand or don't hear the question, ask the examiner to repeat it.
  - Question: Which do you prefer: reading books or watching TV? ........
- 8 When appropriate, use a range of grammar and vocabulary. The examiners want to hear how well you can speak English.
  - Question: Do you enjoy travelling?......
- 9 When appropriate, give reasons for your answers.
  - Question: Tell me about a place you'd like to visit. ..........

Good answers

- a I'd really like to visit Venice. I've seen photos of it and I've read about it, but it must be an amazing place to actually be in and explore. I'd really like to go there at carnival time because it looks such a colourful festival.
- b I'm from Ostrava. It's a large industrial town in the east of the Czech Republic, not far from the Polish border. It's a good place to live, especially in spring and summer.
- c Yes, I do, especially ones which are competitive like basketball or tennis, because I like to win. Actually, I play in my school basketball team and at the moment we're at the top of our regional league.
- d Sorry, could you say that again, please?
- e They go to the cinema, they go out with friends, they go clubbing. You know, basically, they do the normal things which I think young people do everywhere.
- f Well, two weeks ago we had what in England I think is called a half-term holiday, so I went skiing with two of my friends in the mountains. It was great because we stayed in a hostel with other young people, the weather and the snow were excellent, so the skiing was great and we had a lot of fun meeting other young people when we weren't skiing. It was awesome, especially because it was the first time we'd been skiing without our families.
- g Well, I've always liked beautiful buildings and I've always been interested in how they're designed to both look beautiful and be very functional, so I'm hoping to study architecture at university and become an architect. I think the combination of a very technical subject with the chance to be very creative would suit me perfectly.
- h Well, there's just my mother, my father and myself, so I'm an only child. Both my parents have full-time jobs: my mother's a lawyer and my father manages a restaurant.
- i Yes, I love it. I get a real thrill from visiting new and unusual places and from meeting new people and trying to understand or integrate a little bit into their cultures. I think also it's important for me to get away from my daily routine from time to time because it helps broaden the mind. I wish I could travel more.

Part 2

In Part 2, you work alone.

- The examiner gives you two photos on the same topic to speak about.
- He/She asks you to speak for one minute, compare the photos and answer a question about the topic of the two photos.
- The question is also printed above the photos.
- When your partner speaks about his/her photos, you should listen carefully. After your partner has finished, the examiner asks you a short question about the topic of your partner's photos.

Part 2 takes four minutes in total including the examiner's instructions, each candidate's one-minute answer and the short questions.

You studied and practised Part 2 in Units 2, 6, 9, 11 and 13.

How to do Part 2

- 1 Talk about the general ideas the photos show. Don't try to describe them in detail.
- 2 Compare the ideas the two photos show in relation to the question: the question is printed with the photos, so keep it in mind for everything you say.
- 3 When you are not sure what is happening in a photo, speculate (She seems to be ..., He might be ... see Speculating on page 196 and in Unit 9).
- 4 When you compare the photos, you can say what is similar about them as well as what is different.
- 5 Give a balanced answer, so:
  - spend about the same amount of time on each photo
  - spend some time comparing the photos, but perhaps more time answering the question (see Unit 13).
- 6 Support your answer to the question with reasons.
- 7 Use some of the strategies you have practised in this book; for example, instead of talking about one photo and then the other, you could compare both of them at the same time (see Unit 6).
- 8 Speak for the complete minute, i.e. keep speaking until the examiner says 'Thank you'.
- 9 When it's your partner's turn to talk about the photos, listen but don't say anything yourself. You will be asked a question at the end. You should answer it quite briefly in a couple of sentences.

I'd like you to compare photographs, and say what you think is enjoyable about communicating in these ways.

What is enjoyable about communicating in these ways?

Referring to the photos

- In the first photo, a girl is ...
- In the second photo, there are two oldish people who are ...
- The first photo shows ...

Comparing the photos

- In the first photo, there's a girl who looks as if she's chatting on the internet or sending an email, whereas/while in the second photo two oldish people are sitting together on a park bench and gossiping or telling each other stories.
- I think that while the first photo shows that you can have a good time communicating electronically with your friends all over the world, the second photo shows that traditional forms of communication with friends are best because you're face to face and can laugh together and look into each other's eyes and hold hands.
- I think the girl might be talking to a friend about school work, which is always more fun than doing school work on your own, or she may be gossiping about her teachers. On the other hand, the old people are probably talking about their grandchildren and having a laugh about things their grandchildren do, or they could be talking about things they did when they were younger.
- In both photos, the people are probably communicating with friends, and that's usually fun.
   However, in the first photo, the girl may feel a little distant from her friends, which is a pity, whereas in the second photo the two people clearly have a close, warm relationship.

Speculating

- In the first photo, I can see a girl who looks as if she's chatting on the Internet whereas/while in the second photo two old people are sitting together on a park bench and gossiping.
- While the girl seems to be concentrating hard, perhaps because she's writing, the old people seem to be relaxed and enjoying themselves. I think this is because they're together and can see each other.
- I think the girl might be talking to a friend about school work or boyfriends. On the other hand, the old people are probably talking about their grandchildren, or they could be talking about things they did when they were younger.

Part 3

In Part 3, you work with the other candidate.

This part of the Speaking paper is divided into two parts.

In the first part, which takes two minutes:

- The examiner gives you a page with a question and five prompts.
- You have 15 seconds to consider the options before you start speaking.
- You should discuss each of the options in turn.

In the second part, the examiner asks you to summarise your thoughts, for example by choosing the option that is best and saying why. You have one minute for this.

You studied and practised Part 3 in Units 3, 7, 12 and 14.

How to do Part 3

For the first part:

- 1 Listen carefully to the question, which is also printed next to the options to help you. It will be in a mind map with the question in the middle of the page and the prompts around it.
- 2 You have 15 seconds to think about the task before you start speaking:

Think about:

- the options and how you can express them in your own words and discuss their relative merits in relation to the question
- how you can start the discussion, perhaps with a suggestion and a reason for your idea.
- 3 To start the conversation, you can give a brief opinion about one of the options or make a suggestion and ask your partner what he/she thinks.
- 4 When you discuss, deal with each option in turn.
- 5 When your partner says something, react to his/her ideas. Listen carefully to what he/she is saying. Try to make the discussion like a natural conversation. Don't try to dominate the conversation.
- 6 Keep the discussion moving by saying things like What about this option? What do you think? or Shall we move on to the next option?.
- 7 Don't spend too long talking about one particular option.
- 8 Continue your discussion until the examiner says 'Thank you'.

For the second part:

- 1 Don't discuss each option again, but discuss the options which seem most reasonable to you.
- 2 Try to reach a decision, but remember that it's not essential to agree.
- 3 Remember you should discuss the question for a minute, so if you agree with your partner's first idea, say so, but suggest discussing other options (see Unit 3).
- 4 Continue your discussion until the examiner says 'Thank you'.

Example task: First part

I'd like you to imagine that a town wants to attract more visitors and tourists. Here are some of the ideas they are considering. Talk to each other about how effective these different ideas might be. You now have some time to look at the task. Then decide which two would attract the most tourists.

Example task: Second part

Now you have a minute to decide which two ideas would be best for attracting tourists.

Involving your partner

- What do you think?
- Do you agree?
- What about (a music festival)?
- I think ... What about you?

Keeping the discussion moving

- What about (a theme park)? What do you think?
- Let's move on to the next option.
- Shall we move on to the next option?

Part 4

In Part 4, you continue to work together.

- The examiner asks both of you questions about your opinions connected with the topic you discussed in Part 3.
- You may be asked the same question as your partner, if you agree with your partner's answer, or a completely different question.

Part 4 lasts about four minutes.

You studied and practised Part 4 in Units 4, 8, 12 and 14.

How to do Part 4

- 1 Listen carefully to the questions. If you don't understand a question, don't feel afraid to ask the examiner to repeat (Sorry could you say that again, please?). You won't lose any marks asking them to repeat.
- 2 Give general answers to questions.
- 3 Answer the questions giving a reason or an explanation or an example.
- 4 You can try to give a balanced answer, i.e. express two points of view and say which one you agree with (see Units 12 and 14).
- 5 Listen carefully to what your partner says, because you may be asked to give your opinion on what he/she has said.
- 6 If you don't know the answer to a question, don't just say I don't know. Say I don't know a lot about this subject, but I think ... and then give some ideas.

Example questions

- Some places attract large numbers of tourists. What problems are caused by having too many tourists?
- What can people learn by going as tourists to other places?
- Do you think it's better for people to spend their holidays in their own country or travel to other countries? Why?
- What are the advantages of living in another country instead of just going as a tourist? What's the main advantage?

- What things should people try to find out before visiting a country? (Why?)
- How important is it for tourists to respect the culture of the country they are visiting?

Introducing an opinion and giving a reason

- I think ...
- Well, in my opinion, ... because ...
- Ifeel ...
- I'm not sure. I think ...
- No, I don't think so ...

Introducing an explanation

- I mean ...
- You see ...

Giving an example

- For example ...
- For instance ...
- ... such as ...

Speaking in general

- In general, ...
- Generally, ...
- As a rule, ...
- ... tend to ...
